The Client agrees that if there are insufficient securities to satisfy the aggregated orders, the actual number of securities bought/sold will be attributed to the relevant Client in the order in which the Client's orders are received by ESFL.
- 5.9 Where the Client acts as agent for and on behalf of any other person when giving instructions to ESFL under this Agreement, ESFL shall be entitled to treat the Client (and not any other person) as its Client for any and all purposes and the Client shall be liable therefor. This shall apply even if the Client is acting on behalf of a person (who has been notified by the Client to ESFL). No person will be an "Indirect Client".
- 5.10 The Client understands that ESFL has no way of knowing whether anyone other than the Client has given or is giving or giving instructions using the Client's name or the Client's user name or password. The Client accepts that ESFL may not be able to execute the Client's orders at the price specified by the Client or at any specified time, "best price", "best quote" or "market price". The Client agrees to accept and be bound by the transactions executed by ESFL pursuant to the Client's instructions in all circumstances and agrees that ESFL shall not be responsible or liable for any loss incurred by the Client as a result of its failure or inability to comply with the Client's instructions.
- 6.6 Where ESFL or the persons specified in this Clause 6.2 are unable to carry out any order of the Client in full, ESFL or such persons shall be entitled to carry out only part of such order without prior reference to or confirmation from the Client. The Client shall be bound by such partial fulfilment of the order by ESFL. ESFL shall not be liable for any such part of the Client's order which has not been fulfilled.
- 6.7 Unless express instructions to the contrary are given by the Client to ESFL, the Client acknowledges that all orders or requests will only be effective on that day and that the unfulfilled portion of the order will expire at the end of the official trading day of the Exchange or the market in respect of which the order and request was placed, provided that ESFL may, at any time and without prior notice to the Client, in the light of changes in market risk cancel the order and close the position immediately.
- 6.8 If ESFL has completed the purchase of any securities on behalf of the Client (such transaction being recorded in accordance with the SEHK Rules and recognized by SEHK) but the selling broker (other than ESFL) fails to deliver such securities on the due date in accordance with the SEHK Rules, the Client shall be liable for the price difference and all incidental costs incurred by ESFL in obtaining such securities in the open market.
- 6.9 If ESFL has completed the purchase of any securities on behalf of the Client (such transactions being recorded in accordance with the Overseas Stock Exchange Rules and recognized by the overseas stock exchange) but the selling broker or Eddid Trading Agent (other than ESFL) fails to deliver such securities on the due date in accordance with the rules of the overseas stock exchange, the Client shall be liable for the price difference and all incidental costs incurred by ESFL in obtaining such securities in the open market.
- 6.10 Subject to applicable laws and regulations and market requirements, ESFL may, in its absolute discretion, determine the priority of execution of its Clients' orders having due regard to the order in which such orders are received and no Client shall claim priority over another Client in the execution of any order received by ESFL.
- 6.11 The Client acknowledges that ESFL and/or Eddid Trading Agent will not accept short selling orders on behalf of the Client. ESFL shall not be liable to the Client for verifying whether an order is a short selling order. The Client undertakes that it will not give any short selling order and will notify ESFL if any short selling order is in relation to a short sale of securities and that such notification must be given at the same time as the short selling order is given. In the case of a "covered" short sale order, the Client must notify ESFL at the time the order is placed and ESFL shall have the absolute discretion to decide whether to accept the order for execution.
- 6.12 The Client acknowledges that it will be responsible for and will indemnify ESFL against any losses, costs, charges and expenses in connection with the Client's failure to meet its obligations or pay any other amounts due to ESFL by the settlement date.

- 6.13 The Client shall pay all overdue balances in the relevant securities account or interest on any sums owing to ESFL at any time (including interest arising from the collection of judgment debts by the Client) at such rate and on such other terms as ESFL may from time to time notify the Client (or in the absence of such notification, at the rate of eight percent (8%)). Interest shall be payable on the last day of each calendar month or immediately upon demand by ESFL.
- 6.14 The Client acknowledges that all telephone conversations between the Client and ESFL may be recorded without any automated telephone warning in order for ESFL to be able to verify the Client's instructions. In the event of any dispute, the Client agrees to accept the recording of the relevant tape as final and conclusive evidence of the contents of the instruction. Such tapes will always remain the property of ESFL.
- 6.15 The Client acknowledges that the books and records of ESFL relating to any instruction or transaction shall constitute conclusive evidence in all courts and for all purposes against the Client (except in the case of manifest error). For this purpose, the signature of an authorized officer of ESFL of any document certifying an instruction or transaction (except in the case of manifest error) shall be conclusive and binding on the Client.
- 6.16 Where ESFL knows or suspects that security has been breached or that questionable circumstances have arisen in relation to or in connection with the operation of one or more Client accounts or any service provided to the Client, ESFL may, at its absolute discretion and without any liability, refuse or delay the execution of an instruction. In such circumstances, ESFL will inform the Client of the matter as soon as possible.
- 6.17 In the event of the death or winding up of the Client or in the event of the Client becoming incapable of managing and administering his property or affairs, until such time as Eddid Financial receives actual notice of the death, winding up or incapacity or disability of the Client, all instructions of the Client or the Authorized Person may, but shall not be bound to, continue to be executed by Eddid Financial as if the Client were still alive, existing or capable of managing and administering the Client's property or affairs.
- 6.18 ESFL and/or Eddid Trading Agents may not have access to every market (on which a particular security may be traded). Exchanges or market makers may fail or refuse to use the prices quoted by them. The exchange may take Clients' orders out of its automated execution system and process them manually (in which case there may be significant delays in executing Clients' orders). Any delays or failures in the exchange's rules, policies, procedures or decisions or systems may hinder the execution of Client orders, may result in delays in the execution or fulfilment of Client orders or may result in Client orders not being executed at the best price. In no event shall ESFL be liable to the Client for any action, inaction, decision or determination of any exchange, market, clearing house or regulatory authority.
- 6.19 In the event that ESFL is unable to execute or carry out any instructions of the Client, ESFL may take any other action it deems appropriate. The Client understands that the Client will be liable for any consequences or expenses incurred by ESFL in connection with the above and understands that ESFL will not be liable for any loss that may be incurred as a result.
- 6.20 ESFL may trade for itself or on behalf of any affiliate of ESFL, even though ESFL may also hold unexecuted Client orders in respect of the same securities (which may be executed at the same price). Any director, officer or employee of ESFL and/or Eddid Financial may trade for their own account.
- 6.21 ESFL may choose to confirm the execution or cancellation of any Client order by sending an electronic confirmation via email or electronic trading facility, or by posting it on the Eddid Website (and sending a notice to the Client regarding access and retrieval of information) for security reasons. The Client agrees to accept the Electronic Transaction Confirmation in lieu of a written confirmation.
- 6.22 The confirmation may be delayed. The Client understands that reports and confirmations of execution or cancellation of instructions may be incorrect for various reasons, including but not limited to cancellation, modification or amendment by the Exchange or Clearing House. ESFL reserves the right to change the confirmation, in which case the Client will be bound by the actual execution of the instructions provided that the actual execution corresponds to the Client's instructions. If ESFL determines that an error in execution or cancellation has occurred and the Client unreasonably delays in reporting the error, ESFL reserves the right to require the Client to accept the transaction or to remove the transaction from the Securities Account.

- 6.23 The Client agrees that if: (a) the Client does not receive firm confirmation of the execution or cancellation; (b) the confirmation received by the Client is inconsistent with the Client's instructions; (c) the Client receives a confirmation of execution or cancellation in respect of instructions not given by the Client; or (d) the instructions, orders, transactions, account balances, securities or futures positions, funds, margin positions or trading histories reflected in the statements, confirmations or other information received by the Client are incorrect and the Client will immediately notify ESFL of the matter.
- 6.24 The Client understands and agrees that ESFL may adjust the securities account to correct any errors. The Client agrees to immediately return any assets to which he is not entitled but which have been distributed to ESFL.
- 6.25 The Client acknowledges and accepts that neither ESFL nor Eddid Trading Agent shall be required by notice in any form to inform, advise or remind the Client of any information, actions and matters relating to and in connection with (a) the securities purchased or held by them, (b) the rights, interests and obligations of the Client attached to, incidental to, derived from or arising out of such securities; and (c) the issuer of such securities. It is the responsibility of the Client to read and obtain information, announcements, circulars or notices of such securities and their issuers and to take and do such acts as may be necessary in relation to and in connection with (aa) such securities, (bb) the rights, interests and obligations attached to, incidental to, derived from or arising out of such securities and (cc) the issuer of such securities. ESFL shall not be liable for any loss, costs or expenses incurred by the Client in connection with any failure or delay in notifying the Client of information, actions and matters relating to and concerning (i) such securities, (ii) the rights, interests and obligations attaching to, incidental to, derived from or arising out of such securities and (iii) the issuer of such securities.
- 6.26 If the Client instructs ESFL to deliver securities to him, ESFL shall make the necessary arrangements to deliver such securities to the Client within such period as may be determined by ESFL.

7. Deposit of Money or Funds

- 7.1 The Client shall pay such money or funds to ESFL in person or deposit such money or funds directly into a bank account nominated by ESFL and the Client shall collect or deposit his shares in person at ESFL. ESFL may, at its sole discretion, refuse to accept money or funds deposited by any person other than the Client or an authorized person ("Third Party").
- 7.2 ESFL does not accept cheques drawn on third parties for the deposit of money or funds. Only ESFL may, at its absolute discretion, accept the transfer of cleared funds from a Third Party to an account designated by it as a deposit on behalf of the Client.
- 7.3 The Client or the third party (as the case may be) shall, immediately after the deposit of funds to ESFL, fax to ESFL during office hours on the date of deposit a deposit slip and/or other documentary evidence (bearing the Client's name, securities account number and signature) acceptable to ESFL from time to time in respect of the funds deposited ("Evidence of Payment") or deliver to ESFL in person as evidence of payment. The Client acknowledges and understands that funds deposited with ESFL (whether by the Client or a third party) may not be credited to the Client's securities account or reflected in any account statement until ESFL has been notified thereof. The Client agrees that any interest payable by it to ESFL under these Terms and Conditions will be calculated on this basis.
- 7.4 The Client acknowledges and understands that it is the responsibility of the Client or a third party (as the case may be) to hold evidence of payment until such time as evidence of payment is provided to ESFL. ESFL shall not be responsible or liable to the Client for any loss incurred by or in connection with the Client's or a third party's (as the case may be) failure to provide evidence of payment to ESFL in a timely or punctual manner or the use of evidence of payment by any person other than the Client or by any person other than a third party (whether or not with the Client's instructions or consent).

- 7.5 The Client will retain the original evidence of payment for at least one (1) month from the date of deposit. Account statements will be issued by ESFL to the Client for record and verification as soon as possible after the deposit is made. If the Client does not receive the account statement after the deposit has been made, the Client shall inform ESFL immediately.
- 7.6 The Client acknowledges, understands and accepts the risks involved in depositing money or funds via the Internet into the designated bank account of ESFL for the purpose of buying securities or settling transactions ("Online Deposit"). If the Client chooses to deposit money or funds in this way, the Client accepts the risks involved and agrees to assume such risks and all liabilities arising therefrom, including but not limited to the following:
- (a) The Client shall ensure that all relevant procedures, steps, information, sub-account numbers, bill payment numbers, personal identification numbers, amounts deposited and information relating to the deposit of money or funds into ESFL have been thoroughly checked and verified to be true, accurate and correct before giving such instructions for Online Deposit. Where the Client has given instructions in relation to Online Deposits by any means, such instructions shall not be amended, revoked, deleted or cancelled without the prior written consent of ESFL and shall be valid and effective on ESFL and shall be absolutely and conclusively binding on the Client. The Client acknowledges that ESFL shall not in any event be liable for any loss, costs, charges, expenses arising out of or in connection with the Online Deposit, notwithstanding any error or misunderstanding on the part of the Client in giving such instructions;
 - (b) ESFL shall be entitled to treat instructions given by the Client in connection with the Online Deposit as fully authorized by the Client and binding on the Client. ESFL shall be entitled to rely and act on such instructions without reference to or verification of the authority or identity of the person giving or giving such instructions and without regard to the circumstances prevailing at the time such instructions are given, notwithstanding any error, misleading element, ambiguity, fraud, forgery or lack of authority therein;
 - (c) The Client agrees and accepts that if an instruction for online deposit is received by ESFL after its daily cut-off time, such instruction will be deemed to be received by ESFL on the next Business Day, subject to ESFL's absolute discretion. In no event shall ESFL be liable to the Client (including liability for negligence) for any loss, damages, expenses or any loss of profit suffered and/or incurred by the Client (directly or indirectly) as a result of or in connection with the above arrangement; and
 - (d) The Client fully understands and agrees that any instructions given in relation to online deposits may be interrupted, delayed or not transmitted due to communication network failure, system failure, interference with the device or software or otherwise. The Client agrees to bear all risks arising therefrom and shall be solely liable for any loss, damages, expenses or any loss of profit suffered and/or incurred by the Client arising out of or in connection with the Online Deposit (directly or indirectly).
- 7.7 Any money or funds deposited in a securities account must be cleared and actually received by ESFL before it can be used or applied.
- 7.8 The Client acknowledges and accepts that ESFL may elect to set off amounts receivable from the Client against amounts payable to the Client to the extent that such amounts arise from the Client's purchase and sale of securities on a cash and carry basis. The Client hereby authorizes ESFL to set off such amounts against each other and to dispose of securities held for the Client for the purpose of settling amounts due to ESFL from the Client.
- 7.9 If the Client fails to comply with any part of this Clause 7, the Client shall be fully liable for all liabilities in connection with the Deposit and shall indemnify ESFL in full against all costs, claims, liabilities and expenses incurred directly or indirectly in connection therewith.
- 8. Settlement
- 8.1 The Client shall provide securities sold (fully paid up, in valid and good title and in deliverable form) to ESFL for settlement or provide cleared funds to ESFL for payment of purchased securities at a place notified to the Client by ESFL on or before the due date for settlement. The settlement date shall be the day on which securities are received by ESFL in respect of the relevant transaction and the payment date shall be the day on which cleared funds (in the currency required for the relevant transaction) are received by ESFL in respect of the relevant transaction. If the Client fails to provide securities or cleared funds to ESFL by the Settlement Date or Payment Date, ESFL and/or Eddid Trading Agent shall be entitled, without further notice or demand, to promptly:

- (a) Borrow and/or purchase the required securities at a price determined by ESFL and/or Eddid Trading Agent at its absolute discretion for settlement purposes, collect the relevant fees from any Client account of ESFL or any Eddid Financial company, deliver the securities to satisfy the Client's obligations and credit any Client account with the money received on delivery; or
- (b) Accept delivery of securities, receive payment therefor from ESFL or any Client account of any Eddid Financial company in satisfaction of the Client's obligation to assign and/or sell securities at a price determined by ESFL at its absolute discretion and credit the proceeds thereof to the Client's account; or
- (c) In addition to or in lieu of (a) or (b) above, the right of consolidation and right of set-off set out in this Clause 30 shall be used for the settlement of the Transaction.

8.2 The Client shall bear, on a fully indemnified basis, the deficit incurred by ESFL and/or Eddid Trading Agent arising from losses and any costs or expenses (including legal fees) incurred in connection with the trading of securities in accordance with this Clause 8.1.

8.3 The Client irrevocably authorizes ESFL to assign, deduct or debit the Securities Account and/or any money in the Account to pay, discharge and satisfy to ESFL the liabilities, debts and obligations of the Client arising out of, incurred under and in connection with this Agreement, including but not limited to the outstanding purchase price, fees, charges, expenses, commissions and Interest.

9. Settlement Account

9.1 ESFL is authorized to transfer all money or funds payable to the Client under this Agreement to a Settlement Account. The transfer of all money or funds payable as aforesaid to the Settlement Account, or the payment of such money or funds in accordance with the instructions of the Client or the Authorized Person, shall be and be deemed to be a good and valid discharge of the obligation to pay to the Client the sums due thereunder.

10. Custody of Securities

10.1 The Client acknowledges that there is a risk in placing securities in the custody of ESFL and/or Eddid Trading Agent and agrees that any securities held in the custody of ESFL, an entity associated with ESFL or Eddid Trading Agent may, at the discretion of ESFL:

- (a) Be registered (in the case of registrable securities) in the name of the Client or ESFL, its nominee or Eddid Trading Agent; or
- (b) Deposited in the custody of a designated account with ESFL or in a designated account opened by it with another institution providing custody facilities for securities and related documents or with Eddid Trading Agent.

10.2 The Client acknowledges and agrees that the Securities acquired and/or held from time to time through or in the Clearing System under this Agreement shall be held in accordance with the applicable Clearing Rules.

10.3 The Client hereby appoints ESFL and/or Eddid Trading Agent as custodian of all relevant cash and securities of the Client delivered to ESFL and held for ESFL or any sub-custodian thereof under this Agreement. ESFL and/or Eddid Trading Agent shall be entitled to deposit such cash or securities with other custodians or institutions on such terms as it thinks fit. Such cash and securities may be commingled with cash and securities of other Clients (but not with cash and securities in accounts belonging to ESFL) and in such case the Client shall have the same rights as other Clients in respect of cash or securities held by ESFL and/or Eddid Trading Agent for the Client.

10.4 Subject to the provisions of this Clause 10.7, as soon as reasonably practicable after receipt of instructions from the Client, ESFL and/or Eddid Trading Agent will:

- (a) Cause to be registered in the name of the Client or of a nominee of the Client who has been notified by the Client of ESFL that the Securities are from time to time in the Securities Account or, when the Securities cease to be held in the Securities Account, upon receipt of such instructions, deliver to the Client or his nominee documents representing or evidencing the Client's Securities; and
 - (b) Transfer amounts specified by the Client from the Client's Securities Account to the Settlement Account or to such bank account as the Client may specify and such transfer shall be deemed to be a full discharge of the obligation to pay the Client.

- 10.6 Where securities listed on an overseas stock exchange are accepted in an overseas jurisdiction where foreign ownership of the securities is restricted, ESFL and/or Eddid Trading Agent shall not be obliged to ascertain whether the nationality of the owner of the securities or the foreign ownership of the securities is recognized unless specifically instructed by the Client.
- 10.7 The obligations of ESFL under this Clause 10.4 are subject to the other provisions of this Agreement and to the right of ESFL to demand full repayment of all liabilities of the Client prior to the withdrawal of any money or documents. ESFL may, without notice to the Client, repay any or all of the Obligations from the funds in the Securities Account prior to any registration or transfer under this Clause 10.4 or require the Client to pay the sums required prior to any registration or transfer by ESFL under this Clause 10.4.
- 10.8 The Client hereby expressly waives any and all rights attaching to the Client's securities, including any rights issue, offer, capitalization issue, exercise of conversion or redemption or subscription rights and voting rights.
- 10.9 All dividends, distributions, interest, coupons or benefits in respect of the Client's securities will be credited to the securities account for such period as may be determined by ESFL. If the securities to which the dividends, interest, coupons, distributions or other related benefits relate are part of the same securities held by ESFL as part of the Client's total holdings, the Client shall be entitled to the same share of the dividends, distributions, interest, coupons or related benefits arising from his holdings as the Client holds relative to his total holdings.
- 10.10 The Client hereby authorizes ESFL, Eddid Trading Agent or its nominee to do all acts in connection with its custody services in compliance with applicable laws, clearing rules, regulations or exchange rules. The Client acknowledges that ESFL, Eddid Trading Agent and their nominees shall not be liable for any subscriptions, instalments or other payments in respect of securities held by ESFL, Eddid Trading Agent or their nominees in a securities account.
- 10.11 ESFL, Eddid Trading Agent or its nominee may from time to time charge the Client such fees as may be determined by ESFL, Eddid Trading Agent or its nominee for custodial services and other costs, expenses and incidental charges in connection with custodial services. Such charges, costs, expenses and incidentals may be deducted by ESFL from the Client's securities account or other account held by the Client with any Eddid Financial company.
- 10.12 ESFL shall issue statements for the Client's securities account on a monthly basis or at such times as ESFL may in its absolute discretion determine. The Client agrees that he shall examine and check such statements and shall notify ESFL of any errors, omissions, discrepancies or unauthorized transactions within four (4) days of the issuance of such statements. If the Client fails to do so, the Client shall have no right to dispute any transaction or item recorded on the statement and shall accept the statement as final and conclusive and binding on the Client in all respects. Likewise, the confirmation of execution of the Client's order and all other documents relating to the Securities Account shall be conclusive as to the matters contained therein. Such confirmation and documents shall be deemed to be accepted by the Client if the Client does not object in writing to them within four (4) days from the date of such documents.

- 10.13 ESFL shall issue to the Client a Transaction Note and an authorization Document as evidence of the purchase and sale of securities and the making of additional investments in securities for the Client. Where a series of transactions involves several documents, such documents shall generally be withheld until the series of transactions is completed and delivered to the Client.
- 10.14 Any notice given to the Client pursuant to this Clause 30.1 shall state the name of the person to whom ESFL shall deliver the securities or money in the Securities Account. If a notice of termination is given by ESFL, the Client shall give written notice to ESFL within two (2) Business Days (or such period as agreed by ESFL) of the giving of the notice stating the name of the person to whom ESFL shall deliver the securities or money in the Securities Account. In both cases, securities or money in the securities account will be delivered to the specified person after all liabilities have been deducted by ESFL from the securities account. If the Client does not give such written notice to ESFL within two (2) Business Days (or such period as ESFL may subsequently agree) of the giving of such notice, ESFL shall continue to hold the securities or monies without liability until receipt of such written notice and the Client shall bear the costs, expenses, fees and charges of ESFL for such purpose until such time as such notice is given. The Client shall be liable for the costs, expenses, fees and charges of ESFL for such purposes until such securities or monies are delivered to the Client or such person as the Client may specify.
- 10.15 Without prejudice to the rights and powers conferred on ESFL by this Agreement and/or the Loan Agreement (if any), ESFL shall not, without the prior consent of the Client, deposit any of the Client's securities as collateral for loans or money lending for any purpose or lend or otherwise part with the possession of any such securities.
- 11. Taxes
- 11.1 The Client hereby authorizes ESFL or Eddid Trading Agent to take and do all things necessary to comply with the applicable rules, regulations and laws of Hong Kong and/or overseas jurisdictions (as the case may be) in relation to taxes, duties, levies and charges in connection with such transactions and the securities purchased or held by the Client, including the filing of returns, forms and/or relevant authorities or departments of Hong Kong and/or overseas jurisdictions such other documents as may be required; To withhold and/or pay taxes, duties, levies and charges incurred by or in connection with the Transaction and the securities purchased or held by the Client. - 11.3 The Client acknowledges and accepts that ESFL and Eddid Trading Agent shall not be responsible for advising and reminding the Client of the due date for payment of taxes, duties, levies or charges and/or for giving any advice in respect of taxes, duties, levies or charges payable by him. The Client further agrees that ESFL and Eddid Trading Agent shall not be liable for any penalties or charges imposed on the Client for any delay in payment of taxes, duties, levies or charges due to or in connection with their negligence. The Client shall indemnify and keep ESFL and Eddid Trading Agent fully indemnified against all reasonable charges and expenses which may reasonably be incurred by ESFL and Eddid Trading Agent in making the necessary arrangements in connection with any delay in payment by the Client.
- 11.4 If, at any time, in the opinion of ESFL, under any foreign laws and regulations, including, but not limited to, the Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act, the U.S. Internal Revenue Code, the U.S. Treasury regulations, or related guidance issued under such laws and regulations, any related governmental agreements, any similar or related non-U.S. laws, or any contract, commitment, obligation or any policy or instruction (whether or not having the force of law) signed or undertaken or customarily followed by and between ESFL and any international, intergovernmental, quasi-governmental, regulatory, administrative, law-enforcing or supervisory agency, unit, department, office, or agency, agent, exchange, clearing house, banking commission, taxing authority or any other authority, body, unit, department, office or other body in the place of jurisdiction, or any court or tribunal of competent jurisdiction (each an "Authority"), (such foreign laws, regulations, agreements, undertakings, obligations, policies or instructions are collectively referred to as "Applicable Laws"), when the Client's position under or arising out of U.S. tax laws and rules may require a credit or deduction from the Client's account for the relevant tax, ESFL is entitled and hereby expressly authorized by the Client to deduct or withhold the relevant tax from amounts payable by ESFL to the Client ("Authorized Deduction or Withholding"), to pay the Client the balance after the deduction or withholding, and to deliver the authorized deduction or withholding to any authority, including the Internal Revenue Service ("IRS") or other authority or any representative thereof. If the Client is required to make an authorized deduction or withholding under applicable law, the Client shall promptly pay additional amounts to ESFL so that the net amount received by ESFL will not be reduced as a result of the authorized deduction or withholding.

- 11.5 The Client agrees and expressly consents that ESFL may collect, store, use, process, disclose, provide, divulge and report to the IRS, any authority or any other person such information, documents and records (including any information relating to the Client's or any of the Client's beneficiaries' U.S. tax status) as ESFL believes may be necessary, available or useful to ESFL to comply with applicable law or to fulfill ESFL's obligations under applicable law and records (including any information, documents and records relating to the Client's account with ESFL and any transactions or business dealings with the Client, and the personal information, documents and records of any direct or indirect beneficiary, beneficiary or account controller of the Client).
- 11.6 The Client agrees to provide promptly upon receipt of a request from ESFL:
- (a) Any documents or information relating to the identity and tax status of the Client and any direct or indirect beneficiary, beneficiary or controller of the Client (including IRS Forms W-9, W-8BEN and W-8IMY or any other forms prescribed by the IRS or other authorities from time to time);

 - (c) Written consent or waiver of any exemption from applicable personal data protection laws or other laws or regulations issued by the direct or indirect beneficiary of the Client in a form agreed or approved by ESFL for the purpose of permitting ESFL to enforce the provisions of this Clause 11.5.
- 11.7 The Client agrees to notify ESFL promptly of any further changes or inaccuracies in the above information (including the information referred to in the above documents and forms) and to provide ESFL with updated documents, forms or information.
- 11.8 If the Client fails to provide ESFL with the information, documents, forms, consents or waivers referred to in Clauses 11.6 and 11.7 above at the appropriate time and in the exact circumstances, ESFL shall be entitled to take such action as it sees fit in the light of the status of all the Client's accounts with ESFL or the goods, services, assistance or support provided by ESFL to the Client from time to time and ESFL's decision shall be final and binding on the Client.
- 11.9 ESFL may terminate any account at any time without notice or reason if, in its opinion, the continued retention of the account is unlawful, illegal or prohibited by applicable law or subject to economic or trade sanctions by any authority. ESFL shall be entitled to withhold any credit balance in the Account (less any Authorized Deduction or Withholding) and place such credit balance in a non-interest bearing inventory suspense account pending withdrawal by the Client.
- 11.10 The Client hereby unconditionally and absolutely waives and releases ESFL from any liability, claim, demand arising out of any right or action taken by it in good faith under this clause. Without prejudice to the indemnity of any other guarantees given by the Client to ESFL under these Terms and Conditions, the Client further agrees to indemnify ESFL against any liabilities, claims, demands, losses, costs, charges and expenses of any kind incurred by ESFL arising out of misleading information, documents or records provided by the Client in order to bring ESFL into compliance with applicable law.

12. Charges and Expense

- 12.1 The Client shall from time to time pay to ESFL, Eddid Trading Agent or its nominee such commissions, fees, brokerage or other remuneration as may be determined by ESFL, Eddid Trading Agent or its nominee in its absolute discretion in respect of all transactions and after all payments have been made to the Client, together with all applicable levies and all applicable stamp duties imposed by any relevant clearing system or market. All such commissions, fees, levies and taxes may be deducted by ESFL from the Securities Account and any other account held by the Client within any Eddid Financial company.
- 12.2 Without prejudice to the right of ESFL to terminate a securities account under this Clause 29, ESFL may charge a monthly maintenance fee (which will be notified by ESFL to the Client) in respect of the Client's inactive account if the Client has not traded for six months or more. Such charges (if any) will be automatically deducted from the securities account or any other account held by the Client with any Eddid Financial company.

The Client hereby waives all claims and demands, if any, against ESFL for any unintentional or other losses directly arising from the exercise of the powers conferred by this Clause 17, whether in connection with the timing or method of exercising such powers or otherwise (except in the case of wilful default by ESFL or in reckless disregard of ESFL's obligations under this Clause 17).

17.6 In the event of any of the events set out in this Clause 17.1, ESFL may terminate this Agreement without notice to the Client. Any termination shall be without prejudice to the rights and obligations of the parties under any provision of this Agreement. Notwithstanding the termination of this Agreement, the provisions thereof shall remain in full force and effect and shall be enforceable.

17.7 The Client shall be liable on a full indemnity basis for any deficit (which may exist after the exercise of any or a combination of the rights in this Clause 17) and for any costs or expenses incurred by ESFL in connection with such exercise.

17.8 ESFL shall be entitled to engage a collection agent at any time to collect any amounts due but unpaid by the Client. For this purpose, ESFL may and is hereby authorized to disclose to such agent any or all information relating to the Client. ESFL shall not be liable (whether under contract or tort) for such disclosure or for any default, negligence, misconduct and/or covenant on the part of such agent. The Client is hereby warned that the Client shall indemnify ESFL on a fully indemnified basis against all reasonable costs and expenses which may reasonably be incurred by ESFL in engaging a debt collection agent.

- 17.9 In the event that ESFL or its associates commit a default in relation to a security listed or dealt in or to be listed or dealt in on a recognized stock market and the underlying assets of such security and the Client suffers a pecuniary loss as a result, the Client acknowledges and accepts that the right to compensation will be limited to the extent provided for in the Securities and Futures Ordinance. In respect of transactions on the Exchange and not on a recognized securities market, the Client acknowledges and accepts that in the event of any default by ESFL or its affiliates, any right of claim will be subject to the rules of the relevant Exchange.

18. Client's Responsibility for Disclosure of Interests

- 18.1 Clients are reminded of the SFO and the obligations therein to disclose certain shareholdings (including corporate and family interests). Other disclosure obligations may arise under the legislation of other jurisdictions or the rules and regulations of the market.
- 18.2 As a licensed corporation, ESFL is not obliged to advise Clients of its obligations generally or of any obligations that may arise from any instructions given by Clients, or that have arisen as a result of any transaction or any holding or otherwise. Such disclosure obligations are the personal responsibility of the Client. For this purpose, ESFL shall not be obliged to give notice of the Client's holdings in any form prior to any time limit, except for any notice or statement expressly set out in this Agreement. ESFL shall not be liable to the Client for any loss, costs or expenses incurred by the Client as a result of any failure or delay on the part of the Client or any other person in making any disclosure under any such obligation, or any delay or failure to notify the Client of the execution of any instruction, but the Client shall indemnify ESFL against any loss, costs or expenses incurred as a result of any such non-performance, delay or default.

In this clause, "Financial Product" has the same meaning as assigned to it under clause 25.4.

20. Disclaimer

- 20.1 Neither ESFL nor any Eddid Financial company or any of its directors, employees or agents shall be liable (whether for negligence or otherwise) for any direct, indirect or consequential loss, expense or compensation suffered by the Client as a result of:

- 23.2 The Client shall indemnify and keep ESFL indemnified against all costs, claims, demands, actions, proceedings, damages, losses and expenses which may be suffered or incurred by ESFL arising directly or indirectly from or in connection with any matter done or omitted to be done, lawfully done or omitted to be done by ESFL in accordance with any instructions given by the Client, any transaction entered into by ESFL on behalf of the Client, or any action taken by ESFL under this Agreement.

- 23.7 In the event that ESFL fails to perform its obligations to the Client under this Agreement, the Client shall be entitled to claim from the Investor Compensation Fund in accordance with the terms of the Investor Compensation Fund under the SFO, as amended or supplemented from time to time.
- 23.8 ESFL and the Client hereby agree that this Clause 23 shall continue in force notwithstanding the termination of this Agreement.

24. ESFL's Interests

- 24.1 When entering into any transaction for the Client, ESFL, its nominee and any Eddid Financial company may have an interest, relationship or arrangement in the relevant securities which is material to that transaction. The Client agrees that notwithstanding any such interest, relationship or arrangement, ESFL may, together with or through any of its nominees, subsidiaries or affiliates, effect transactions for the Client and that ESFL, its nominees, subsidiaries or affiliates may:
- (a) Become a counterparty for itself to any transaction executed in respect of a Client;

25. Suitability

- 25.1 Unless otherwise expressly agreed in writing by ESFL, ESFL makes no representation or warranty, express or implied, as to the value or suitability of any transaction entered into by the Client for the Client.
- 25.2 The Client hereby acknowledges that even if any information transmitted to the Client by ESFL is from a source believed by ESFL to be reliable, such information has not been independently verified by ESFL and may be incomplete, inaccurate or altered without notice to the Client. The Client acknowledges that any such information is provided by ESFL to the Client for purely informational or purely indicative purposes and is not intended as investment advice or for trading or other purposes. ESFL makes no representations, warranties or guarantees as to the sequence, accuracy, truthfulness, reliability, adequacy, timeliness, completeness or correctness of such information. Neither ESFL nor Eddid Financial shall have any responsibility or liability for any information or opinions given or expressed by them or any of their directors, officers, employees or agents to the Client (whether or not such information or opinions are given or expressed at the request of the Client).

25.3 Clients are responsible for making their own judgement and decisions in relation to any transactions they enter into. ESFL is under no obligation to provide any investment advice or recommendation to the Client and no advice or information provided by any representative of ESFL shall be deemed or relied upon by the Client as investment advice unless ESFL has expressly agreed otherwise. The Client understands that ESFL or one or more Eddid Financial may trade in the securities or financial instruments referred to in the information provided to the Client and that the positions or transactions of ESFL or any Eddid Financial company may or may not correspond to the information given to the Client by ESFL.

25.4 If ESFL solicits the sale or recommendation of any financial product to the Client, such financial product must be one that ESFL considers reasonably suitable for the Client having regard to the Client's financial situation, investment experience and investment objectives. Nothing in this Agreement or any other document which ESFL may require the Client to sign and no statement which ESFL may require the Client to make shall derogate from the effect of these Terms and Conditions. For the purposes of this clause, "Financial Product" means any securities, futures contract or leveraged foreign exchange trading contract as defined in the SFO. In relation to "Leveraged Foreign Exchange Trading Contracts", it applies only to such leveraged foreign exchange trading contracts traded by a person licensed to carry on a Type 3 regulated activity.

26. Investor Compensation Fund

26.1 If ESFL commits a default within the meaning of Part XII of the Securities and Futures Ordinance and the Client suffers pecuniary loss as a result, the Client understands that the right to claim compensation from the Investor Compensation Fund established under Part XII of the Securities and Futures Ordinance will be limited to the extent provided for in the Ordinance.

26.2 Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Client fully understands that the right to claim compensation from the Investor Compensation Fund referred to in this Clause 26.1 will not apply to any instructions given or transactions entered into in overseas jurisdictions.

27. Securities Borrowing & Lending

27.1 ESFL is permitted to borrow securities only in accordance with the Securities Borrowing & Lending Regulations issued by the Exchange or the Clearing Rules, as the case may be. - (a) The term "Client" shall include each such person ("Joint Client") and the Joint Clients' obligations under this Agreement shall be joint and several;
- (b) A claim for payment from any one or more of the Joint Clients shall be deemed to be a valid claim against all of the Joint Clients;
- (c) ESFL and any Eddid Financial company shall be entitled to deal with any matter separately from any of the Joint Clients, including the release of any one or more of the Joint Clients from their obligations under this Agreement or the discharge of any such person's debts, the acceptance of any such person's debt restructuring agreement or the entering into of any other arrangement with any such person, which shall not result in the release or prejudice or affect their rights and remedies against any other Joint Client;
- (d) Each Joint Client shall waive, in favour of all of Eddid Financial, any right to compete with any or all of Eddid Financial in respect of the bankruptcy or winding up of any Joint Client and no Joint Client shall take any counter-collateral from any other Joint Client without the prior consent of all of Eddid Financial;

- (e) The discharge, compliance or performance by any Eddid Financial company of any indebtedness, debt or obligation under this Agreement in favour of or for the benefit of any Joint Client shall be and be deemed to be a full and complete discharge, compliance or performance of any indebtedness, debt or obligation under this Agreement in favour of or for the benefit of all of the Joint Clients. Any payment of money or funds by any Eddid Financial company to or in favour of any of the Joint Clients shall be and be deemed to be a full and complete discharge, compliance or performance of the obligation to pay money or funds to or in favour of any or all of the Joint Clients;
- (f) This Agreement shall not be affected by the death, incapacity or dissolution of any of the Joint Clients;
- (g) The termination of this Agreement by any one or more of the Joint Clients or its or their personal representatives in accordance with Clause 30 shall not affect the continuing obligations of the other Joint Clients.
- (h) ESFL has a lien on the property of each of its Joint Clients, including but not limited to securities accounts. The lien of ESFL is in addition to the rights and remedies of ESFL under this Agreement;
- (i) The Joint Clients have authorized ESFL to accept any instructions (including but not limited to oral or written instructions) from one of the Joint Clients' persons (the "Person") individually to ESFL. Such person shall be entitled to deal with any operations in the Securities Account and to exercise all rights, powers and discretion under this Agreement on behalf of the other Joint Clients. ESFL may act in accordance with any instructions given by such person without giving notice of such instructions to the other Joint Clients or all Joint Clients or obtaining a power of attorney from the other Joint Clients or all Joint Clients in respect of such instructions. ESFL shall have absolute discretion as to whether to accept such instructions and shall not be liable for the consequences of such acceptance or otherwise. Any act, conduct, direction, decision and/or authority of any Joint Client shall be binding on the other Joint Clients individually and collectively;
- (j) ESFL shall have no liability whatsoever (including, but not limited to, for enquiries or warranties made in respect of them) in respect of any movement of money or property between Joint Clients;
- (k) No Joint Client shall have the right to claim or insist, separately or exclusively from any other Joint Client, that the interest, benefit, ownership or title to any particular or specified securities in a securities account shall vest in such Joint Client;
- (l) This Agreement, which has been entered into by a Joint Client, provides for a right of survivorship;
- (m) In the event of the death of any Joint Client, the personal representative of the deceased Joint Client or the surviving Joint Client shall forthwith notify ESFL in writing of such death and shall submit and deliver to ESFL a true copy of such proof of death and such other documents as ESFL may in its absolute discretion require (provided that ESFL shall not be required to certify the authenticity of the evidence provided); and
- (n) Each Joint Client shall be bound by this Agreement notwithstanding any arrangement or agreement between the Joint Clients and notwithstanding that this Agreement may be invalid or unenforceable in respect of any one or more of the Joint Clients (whether or not ESFL is aware of the defect).

29. Single and Continuous Agreement

- 29.1 This Agreement and all amendments hereto shall be a continuing agreement and shall individually and collectively cover all securities accounts opened and held by the Client with ESFL from time to time, and each order executed by ESFL shall be subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement. The Client hereby acknowledges that all such transactions executed for the Client are executed by ESFL on the basis of the relevant facts as if the representations, undertakings and warranties given by the Client to ESFL in Clause 16 were repeated prior to each such transaction and that no such transaction would otherwise be entered into by the parties.

30. Termination

- 30.1 The Client may only terminate this Agreement by giving valid prior written notice to ESFL. The prior written notice referred to above shall only be effective upon actual receipt of such notice by ESFL. The notice shall state that the effective date of termination of this Agreement shall be at least seven (7) business days after the receipt of such notice by ESFL. This Agreement may be terminated at any time at the discretion of ESFL upon notice to the Client.

Termination of this Agreement shall not affect or prejudice:

- (a) Liabilities, debts or obligations of the Client existing, arising or incurred under this Agreement and/or the Loan Agreement (if any) and/or any agreement entered into with any Eddid Financial company at or prior to the termination of this Agreement, including but not limited to debts or obligations of the Client arising out of or in connection with open positions or unperformed transactions at the time of termination of this Agreement;

- (c) The right and power to terminate, assign or settle all open positions or outstanding transactions of the Client and to take such actions or do such acts and things as are incidental to or in connection with such termination, assignment or settlement as referred to in this clause; and
- (d) Taking the rights and powers incidental to the termination, winding up, consolidation, settlement or discharge of all the debts, obligations or liabilities of the Client under this Agreement or the relevant action or doing of such act and thing in connection therewith or to take the rights and powers incidental to the termination of this Agreement or the relevant action or doing of such act and thing in connection therewith.

30.2 Upon termination of this Agreement in accordance with this Clause 30.1, all amounts due or owing by the Client to ESFL under this Agreement shall become immediately due and payable to ESFL. Notwithstanding any instruction by the Client to the contrary, ESFL shall have no further obligation to enter into any transaction for the Client under the provisions of this Agreement.

30.3 Upon termination of this Agreement, ESFL shall be entitled to sell, realize, redeem, liquidate or otherwise dispose of all or part of the Client's securities as soon as practicable for such consideration and in such manner as ESFL shall in its absolute discretion deem necessary to satisfy, firstly, all costs, charges, fees and expenses incurred by ESFL in connection with such sale, realization, redemption, liquidation or other disposal (including legal expenses) and amounts payable or owing under this Agreement and other accumulated indebtedness (whether actual or contingent, present or future or otherwise) due to ESFL and outstanding; followed by all other liabilities at the sole risk and expense of the Client and without liability to ESFL for any loss or damages incurred by the Client.

30.4 Any cash remaining after the settlement of all amounts specified in this Clause 30.3 shall be credited to the Securities Account. All securities not realized or disposed of will be delivered to the Client at the Client's sole risk and expense, together with any relevant documents of title in the possession of ESFL. ESFL shall not be liable for any loss or damages incurred by the Client as a result of such delivery. Without prejudice to the foregoing, if the Client fails to take delivery, ESFL shall charge a monthly maintenance fee to be notified by ESFL to the Client and such fee (if any) shall be automatically deducted from any account.

30.5 If, after the application of the proceeds of sale in accordance with this Clause 30.3, there is a negative balance in the Securities Account, the Client shall forthwith pay to ESFL an amount equal to such negative balance, together with the cost of the amount provided by ESFL for such balance, together with interest at the rate of eight percent (8%) until ESFL has received the full amount (whether before or after obtaining any judgment).

31. Force Majeure Event

31.1 No party shall be liable for any loss suffered by another party if that party is prevented from acting, directly or indirectly, by governmental restrictions, the imposition of emergency procedures or suspension of trading on any relevant exchange, clearing house or market, riots, acts or threats of terrorism, acts of God, war, strikes or other

- 32.2 Without prejudice to the generality of this Clause 32.1, if the Client has more than one account with Eddid Financial, any Eddid Financial company is hereby authorized by the Client to consolidate or combine all or any of such accounts at any time without notice to the Client and to transfer or apply any retained property, money, funds, securities, property or assets of any one or more of such accounts against the Client any indebtedness, debt or liability of any nature (actual or contingent, primary or subsidiary, secured or unsecured, joint or several) of any Eddid Financial company payable in respect of any other account. Where any such merger, consolidation, set-off or transfer requires the conversion of one currency into another currency, such conversion will be calculated at the prevailing spot rate of exchange in the foreign exchange market deemed relevant at the date of the merger, consolidation, set-off or transfer by any one Eddid Financial.
- 32.3 All money or other property received by or for the Client from any other person under this Agreement will be held by ESFL and will be segregated from ESFL's own assets and paid into a separate corporate account within a reasonable time after receipt of such money or other property by ESFL.
- 32.4 The Client acknowledges that as between ESFL or any Eddid Financial company and the relevant clearing house, ESFL (or any Eddid Financial company, as the case may be) is deemed to be the principal in respect of any account set up by ESFL or any Eddid Financial company with any clearing house (whether or not the account is held wholly or partly as a result of trading on behalf of the Client and whether or not the money paid by the Client is paid to such clearing house).

The contents of any such report, confirmation, statement, notice or communication shall be and be deemed to be correct, accurate and conclusive and the Client shall have no objection thereto unless written objection is actually received by ESFL from the Client within four (4) days after hand delivery, telex or facsimile transmission or email or posting.

The Client acknowledges that he is aware that any breach by the Client of his representations, undertakings and warranties set out in this clause may result in the rejection of the application and any other application submitted by ESFL on his own behalf or on behalf of any other person. The Client will, upon request, indemnify ESFL against all losses arising from any breach of the representations, undertakings and warranties set out in this clause by the Client. The Client acknowledges and accepts that, in connection with the application, ESFL and the relevant person(s) will rely on the above representations, undertakings and warranties.

- 6.5 In addition to the other representations, warranties and undertakings made or to be made by the Client to ESFL in connection with each application, the Client makes all representations, warranties and undertakings required to be made by the Client to ESFL as an applicant for the offered securities (whether to any or all of the relevant persons).
- 6.6 The Client acknowledges and understands that the legal and regulatory requirements and market practice for each offer or application may change from time to time. - 2.2 The Client further acknowledges and agrees to comply with the terms and conditions of the Loan Agreement and the provisions of any other agreements entered into from time to time with ESFL and/or any Eddid Financial company in relation to the grant and maintenance of such credit facilities.
- 2.3 The Lender shall have the absolute discretion to determine the value of the collateral from time to time and/or to determine, amend or vary the principal amount and other terms of the Credit Facility from time to time and/or to refuse to make any lending under the Credit Facility (whether or not the current facility limit has been exceeded) and/or to terminate and demand immediate repayment of the Credit Facility at any time. The amount outstanding under the Credit Facility shall not at any time exceed the limit prescribed by the Lender under Clause 2.1.

and (ii) at no time shall the Lender be obliged to lend money to the Client.

2.5 Without prejudice to the foregoing, the Lender shall not be obliged to lend money to the Client in the event of any of the following:

3. Margin & Fund

3.1 The Client agrees to provide and maintain margin in a margin account in cash, securities and/or other assets in such form and in such amounts as may be specified by ESFL from time to time in its absolute discretion and on such terms as may be specified by ESFL from time to time in its absolute discretion ("Margin Requirements"). The margin requirements required by ESFL may exceed any margin requirements specified by any exchange or clearing house or broker. ESFL may, at its sole discretion, change any Margin Requirement at any time without prior notice to the Client. If ESFL considers that additional margin is required, the Client agrees to deposit such additional margin with ESFL immediately upon request. All funds provided by the Client as margin must be cleared funds and all securities provided by the Client as margin must be securities of good and unencumbered title owned by the Client. No previous Margin Requirement shall establish any precedent. Changes in margin requirements apply to existing positions and new positions after the date of such change.

3.2 All Margin (whether additional or not) provided and maintained by the Client under Clause 3.1 and all sums and securities which are now or at any time thereafter required to be deposited, transferred or caused to be deposited or transferred to or held by ESFL or any Eddid Financial Group company shall form part of the Collateral as continuing security to ESFL and the Lenders to secure the payment and repayment by the Client of all indebtedness (whether under the Credit Facility or otherwise).

- 3.3 Without prejudice to Clauses 3.5 to 3.11 hereof, the Client shall satisfy or honour any call or demand for payment in respect of the Margin Requirement immediately upon demand by ESFL. The Client shall, upon request, provide funds or money for ESFL or make arrangements for ESFL to be provided with funds or money in time to enable ESFL to settle any liabilities incurred or to be incurred by ESFL as a result of trading, dealing or transactions effected in respect of the Margin Account. The Client shall, on demand, reimburse ESFL for all costs and expenses incurred by ESFL in connection with the completion of dealings, purchases, sales or transactions in respect of the Margin Account and/or pay or settle any outstanding amounts under the Margin Account.
- 3.4 No interest shall be payable on money or funds paid to or received by ESFL in respect of the Margin Account (whether for deposit or otherwise as described). ESFL shall be entitled to retain for its own benefit any interest or other realized income or increase in value earned or received in respect of such money or funds. ESFL shall be entitled at any time to charge, and the Client agrees at any time to pay to ESFL, interest on any deficit or any money or funds otherwise receivable by ESFL at such rate and on such other terms as ESFL may from time to time notify the Client (or in the absence of such notification, at the rate of eight percent (8%)).
- 3.5 The Client shall monitor the Margin Account to ensure that there is sufficient balance in the Margin Account at all times to meet Margin requirements. Such margin requirement may be revised at any time at the absolute and sole discretion of ESFL for the Client. Where the Client does not have sufficient account balance to meet the margin requirement, ESFL may refuse to execute any instruction or order from the Client and ESFL may delay processing any instruction or order while it determines the correct margin status of the margin account. The Client shall at all times maintain a sufficient account balance to continue to meet margin requirements without notice or demand from ESFL. The Client must at all times honour any margin requirements calculated by ESFL.
- 3.6 ESFL shall not be obliged to notify the Client of any failure to meet margin requirements in the Margin Account until ESFL has exercised its rights, powers, discretion and remedies under this Agreement. The Client understands and accepts that ESFL will not normally make calls or demands for payment in respect of margin requirements and that ESFL will not normally make credits to the Margin Account to meet any shortfall in margin requirements and that ESFL is authorized to exercise any of its rights under Clause 17 of Chapter 1 to satisfy margin requirements without prior notice to the Client.
- 3.7 If at any time the Margin Account has a balance of zero equity or a deficit, or if the Margin Account does not have a sufficient account balance to meet the Margin Requirement, then ESFL shall be entitled at any time at its sole discretion (but without obligation) to exercise any of its rights under Chapter 1 Clause 17 at any time without prior demand or call to the Client by any means or in any market as ESFL may deem necessary to exercise any of its rights under Clause 17 of Chapter 1. The Client agrees to be responsible for and to pay immediately to ESFL any shortfall in the Margin Account arising from the exercise of his rights on or remain after such occasion. ESFL shall not be liable to the Client for any loss or compensation suffered by the Client as a result of the exercise of the Client's rights (or if ESFL delays the exercise of such rights, or does not exercise such rights).
- 3.8 The Client expressly waives any right to receive prior notice or demand from ESFL and the consent to any prior demand, notice, announcement or advertisement shall not be deemed to be a waiver by ESFL of any of its rights under Clause 17 of Chapter 1. The Client understands that if ESFL exercises such rights, the Client will not have the right and opportunity to determine the manner in which ESFL shall exercise such rights. ESFL may exercise such rights on any exchange or market at its absolute and sole discretion and ESFL or its affiliates may take a different position with respect to the closing, clearing or settlement of such transactions. If such rights are exercised, the exercise of such rights shall determine the profit or loss of the Client and the amount (if any) of indebtedness owed to ESFL. The Client shall reimburse ESFL for all actions, omissions, costs, expenses, fees (including but not limited to legal fees) penalties, losses, claims or liabilities in connection with the exercise of such rights by ESFL and shall hold ESFL harmless from any such actions, omissions, costs, expenses, fees (including but not limited to legal fees) penalties, losses, claims or liabilities. The Client shall be responsible and liable for all consequences of loss, even if ESFL is delayed or fails to exercise its rights in respect thereof. In the event that ESFL executes an order (for which the Client does not have sufficient funds), ESFL shall be entitled to liquidate the transaction without notice to the Client and the Client shall be liable for any loss, including any costs, arising from such liquidation and shall not be entitled to any profit arising from such liquidation.

- 3.9 The Client irrevocably and unconditionally authorizes ESFL to make transfers or deductions of any money from the Margin Account and/or the Account for the purpose of paying, releasing, satisfying and discharging the liabilities, debts and obligations of the Client to ESFL arising out of, incurred in connection with and in connection with this Agreement, including but not limited to the outstanding purchase price, fees (including but not limited to market information fees), charges, expenses, commissions and interest payable by the Client under this Agreement. The Client acknowledges and agrees that such deductions may affect the amount of money in the Margin Account (which will be used to meet Margin requirements). If the deduction of commissions, fees or other charges results in the Margin Account not having sufficient balance to meet margin calls, then ESFL may exercise any of its rights under Clause 17 of Chapter 1.
- 3.10 If ESFL makes a call or demand for payment to the Client in respect of a Margin Requirement, the Client shall immediately comply with such call and demand. The Client agrees to immediately deposit cleared funds in the Margin Account to cover in full any open positions that are not covered by Margin in order to satisfy any call or demand made by ESFL in respect of a Margin Requirement.

Clearing Rules of the SEOCH and the Rules of HKSCC. In particular, the SEOCH is authorized to amend the terms of the contracts in accordance with the Law and Rules. ESFL shall notify the Client of any such amendments affecting the Client's contracts to which the Client is a party. The Client agrees that all actions taken by ESFL, SEHK, SEOCH or HKSCC in accordance with the Law and Rules shall be binding on the Client.

- 2.2 The Client agrees that the standard contractual terms of the stock option series shall apply to each Client contract entered into by ESFL and the Client and that all Client contracts shall be entered into, exercised, settled and canceled in accordance with the Law and Rules.

3. Instructions and Dealing Practice

- 3.1 Subject to the Client Money Rules and the Client Securities Rules, ESFL is hereby authorized to enter into, exercise, settle and/or discharge stock option contracts for Stock Options Accounts (etc.) at the direction of the Client and to otherwise dispose of any Margin, collateral, securities, premiums, option contracts, receivables or monies.
- 3.2 The Client acknowledges and agrees that ESFL may, at its absolute discretion, exercise its right to offset margin on the Client's position in the DCASS via the "Client Offset Claim Account".

4. Contracts

- 4.1 For all contracts entered into at the direction of the Client, the Client shall pay to ESFL the option premium, commission and any other charges of ESFL and the applicable levy imposed by SEHK (as notified to the Client) during the period notified by ESFL. If no such period is specified by ESFL, the Client shall comply with the above request two hours before the request is made (or sooner if requested by ESFL). ESFL may require the Client to arrange for the payment of the premium, ESFL's commission and any other charges and/or applicable levies imposed by SEHK before accepting the Client's instructions and may impose such other requirements for the payment of the foregoing as ESFL may in its absolute discretion determine from time to time. ESFL may deduct such premiums, commissions, charges and levies from the stock options account or any account.
- 4.2 ESFL may at any time without notice to the Client limit any open positions or delivery obligations which the Client may have.
- 4.3 The Client acknowledges that:
- (a) ESFL may be required to close out Client contracts in compliance with position limits prescribed by SEHK;
 - (b) In the event of a default by ESFL, the default handling practices of SEHK may result in a Client contract being closed out or replaced by a Client contract entered into by another Options Exchange Participant with that Client; and
 - (c) In the event of a change in the capital structure or composition of the issuer of the underlying securities of a class of options or any other special circumstances, SEOCH may adjust the terms and conditions of the options of a class in such manner as it considers necessary and desirable to ensure fair treatment of all parties to open contracts in respect of such options. The Client hereby acknowledges and agrees that all such adjustments shall be binding on the Client.
- 4.4 When the Client exercises a Client Contract or such Client Contract is exercised, the Client is required to notify ESFL of the exercise of such Contract on or before 4:15 p.m. on the Expiry Date and the Client will meet the Client's delivery obligations under such Contract in accordance with the standard Contract and in accordance with the notice given to ESFL. As expiry dates vary from product to product, it is the Client's responsibility to determine whether and when the contract is required to be exercised and ESFL is not obliged to notify the Client of the expiry date of the product or the decision to exercise the product and the Client is responsible and liable for all consequences.
- 4.5 The Client acknowledges that on the Expiry Date (but only on the Expiry Date), the Stock Option System will automatically generate an exercise instruction for all long open in-the-money stock option contracts with an in-the-money percentage equal to or greater than the criteria specified by the SEOCH from time to time and that the Client may instruct ESFL to cancel such "automatically generated exercise instruction" prior to the termination of the system on the Expiry Date in accordance with the Operational Clearing Procedures of the SEOCH ".

- 4.6 The Client acknowledges that ESFL may, at the Client's request, agree to substitute a Client contract entered into by the Client with another option exchange participant for a Client contract entered into by ESFL with the Client in accordance with law and rules.
- 4.7 The Client acknowledges that notwithstanding that all stock option contracts will be executed on SEHK, the Client and ESFL shall contract as principals in the Client Contract.
- 4.8 In respect of the Client's short positions, if the Client Contract is validly exercised (including in accordance with Clause 4.9), the Client shall perform its obligations under the relevant Client Contract by 3:15 p.m. on the next Business Day following the date of exercise. In the event of failure to do so, and without prejudice to any other rights or remedies which ESFL may have against the Client, ESFL may, without demand or notice, make good or deal with any of the Client's obligations under any Short Position Contract in such manner as ESFL considers most appropriate. The Client agrees that the Client will be responsible for all expenses incurred by ESFL in connection therewith and that ESFL shall not be liable for any loss which may arise therefrom.
- 4.9 The Client understands and agrees that under the Options Trading Rules and the Clearing Rules, SEOCH may exercise an open short position in a Client Contract at the discretion of any Stock Options Exchange Participant, in which case such Options Exchange Participant shall randomly select a Client Contract out of all Client Contracts constituting an open short position in the same Stock Options Series as such Client Contract. For all purposes, by operation of this Agreement, the Options Trading Rules and the Clearing Rules, the Client Contract so selected shall be deemed to have been validly exercised at the time of such selection. ESFL shall notify the Client of the details of such exercise as soon as possible.
- 4.10 The obligation to deliver shall arise upon the valid exercise of a Client Contract. Upon the exercise of a Client Contract by or against the Client, the Client will discharge his delivery obligations under the relevant contract in accordance with the standard contract and in accordance with the notice received by the Client from ESFL.
- 4.11 The Client hereby acknowledges that the Client shall be liable to ESFL (on an indemnity basis) for any losses, costs, charges and expenses (including legal fees) incurred by ESFL in connection with the Client's failure to meet the obligations referred to in this clause by the due date.
- 5. Margin
- 5.1 The Client agrees to provide and maintain in the Stock Options Account a margin ("Margin") in cash and/or securities and/or other assets in such form, amount and on such terms as ESFL may from time to time determine in its absolute discretion and on such terms as ESFL may prescribe as security for the Client's obligations to ESFL under this Agreement. The Margin requirement shall not be less than, but may exceed, the amount required by law and rules in respect of the Client's open positions and delivery obligations. Any margin may be varied at any time at the sole discretion of ESFL without prior notice to the Client. If ESFL considers that additional margin is required, the Client agrees to deposit such additional margin with ESFL immediately upon request. All funds provided by the Client as margin must be cleared funds and all securities provided by the Client as margin must be securities of good and unencumbered title owned by the Client. No previous Margin shall establish any precedent. Changes in margin requirements apply to existing positions and new positions after the date of such change.
- 5.2 Where margin in the form of securities is accepted by ESFL, the Client shall, on request, give ESFL such authority as may be required by law and rules to authorize ESFL, either directly or through an Options Exchange Participant, to deliver such securities to the SEOCH as collateral for the SEOCH in connection with the trading of stock options on the Exchange in connection with the giving of instructions. ESFL is not further authorized by the Client to borrow or lend the Client's securities or to part with possession of any of the Client's securities for any other purpose (unless returned to or at the direction of the Client).
- 5.3 Without prejudice to Clauses 5.5 to 5.12 herein, the Client shall satisfy or honour any call or demand for payment of Margin immediately upon demand by ESFL. The Client shall, upon request, make funds or money available to ESFL in a timely manner or arrange for funds or money to be made available to ESFL to enable ESFL to settle any liabilities incurred or to be incurred in connection with transactions in respect of the Stock Options Account.

The Client shall, on demand, reimburse ESFL for all costs and expenses incurred by ESFL in connection with dealing in respect of the Stock Options Account and/or pay or settle any amounts outstanding under the Stock Options Account.

- 5.4 No interest shall be payable by ESFL on money or funds paid to or received by ESFL in respect of the Stock Options Account, whether for deposit or otherwise as stated. ESFL shall be entitled to retain for its own benefit any interest or other realized income or increase in value earned or received in respect of such money or funds. ESFL shall be entitled at any time to charge, and the Client agrees at any time to pay to ESFL, interest on any deficit or any other money or funds owing to ESFL at any time at such rate and on such other terms as ESFL may from time to time notify the Client (or in default of such notification, at the rate of eight percent (8%)). Interest shall be payable on the last day of each calendar month or immediately upon call by ESFL.
- 5.5 The Client shall monitor the stock options account to ensure that there is sufficient account balance in the stock options account at all times to cover the margin. ESFL may at any time amend the Client's margin at its absolute and sole discretion. Where the Client does not have sufficient account balance to cover margin, ESFL may refuse to execute any instruction or order from the Client and ESFL may defer any instruction or order while it determines the correct margin position for the stock options account. The Client shall at all times maintain a sufficient account balance to continue to meet margin payments without notice or demand from ESFL. The Client shall at all times honour any margin calculated by ESFL.
- 5.6 ESFL shall not be obliged to notify the Client of any failure to pay Margin in the Client's Stock Options Account until ESFL has exercised its rights, powers, discretion and remedies under this Agreement. The Client understands and accepts that ESFL will not normally make calls or demands for payment of Margin and that ESFL will not normally make credits to the Stock Options Account to meet any shortfall in Margin and that ESFL is authorized to exercise any of its rights under (a) Clause 17 of Chapter 1 and/or (b) this Clause 8 without prior notice to the Client to satisfy Margin.
- 5.7 If at any time the Stock Option Account has a balance of zero equity or a deficit, or if the Stock Options Account does not have sufficient account balance to cover the Margin, then ESFL shall have the right (but not the obligation) to exercise any of its rights under (a) Clause 17 of Chapter 1 and/or (b) this Clause 8 in any manner and on any market at any time at its sole discretion and without prior demand or reminder to the Client, as ESFL may deem necessary. The Client agrees to be responsible for and to pay immediately to ESFL any shortfall in the Stock Options Account arising from the exercise of his rights on this occasion or outstanding. ESFL shall not be liable to the Client for any loss or compensation suffered by the Client as a result of such exercise of rights (or if ESFL is delayed in exercising such rights, or does not exercise such rights).
- 5.8 The Client's express waiver of any right to receive prior notice or demand from ESFL and agreement to any prior demand, notice, announcement or advertisement shall not be deemed to be a waiver by ESFL of any of its rights under (a) Clause 17 of Chapter 1 and/or (b) this Clause 8. The Client understands that if ESFL exercises such rights, the Client will have no right and no opportunity to determine the manner in which ESFL exercises such rights. ESFL may exercise such rights on any exchange or market at its absolute and sole discretion and ESFL or its affiliates may take a different position with respect to the closing, clearing or settlement of such transactions. If such rights are exercised, the exercise of such rights shall determine the profit or loss of the Client and the amount (if any) of indebtedness owed to ESFL. The Client shall reimburse ESFL for all actions, omissions, costs, expenses, fees (including but not limited to legal fees) penalties, losses, claims or liabilities in connection with the exercise of such rights by ESFL and shall hold ESFL harmless from any such actions, omissions, costs, expenses, fees (including but not limited to legal fees) penalties, losses, claims or liabilities. The Client shall be responsible and liable for all consequences of loss in the event of delay or failure to exercise such rights by ESFL. In the event that ESFL executes an order (for which the Client does not have sufficient funds), ESFL shall be entitled to liquidate the transaction without notice to the Client and the Client shall be liable for any loss, including any costs, arising from such liquidation and shall not be entitled to any profit arising from such liquidation.
- 5.9 The Client irrevocably and unconditionally authorizes ESFL to make transfers or deduct any money from the Stock Options Account and/or the Account for the purpose of paying, releasing, satisfying and discharging the liabilities, debts and obligations owed by the Client to ESFL arising out of, incurred in connection with and in connection with this Agreement, including but not limited to the outstanding purchase price, fees (including but not limited to market information fees), charges, expenses, commissions and interest payable by the Client under this Agreement. The Client acknowledges and agrees that such deductions may affect the amount of money available in the Stock Options Account for margin payments. If the deduction of commissions, fees or other charges results in the stock options account not having a sufficient balance to cover the margin, ESFL may exercise any of its rights under (a) Clause 17 of Chapter 1 and/or (b) this Clause 8.

- 5.10 If ESFL makes a call or demand for payment of the Margin to the Client, the Client shall immediately comply with such call and demand. The Client agrees to immediately deposit cleared funds in the Stock Options Account to cover in full any shortfall in margin on open positions in order to satisfy such margin call or payment demand by ESFL.
- 5.11 ESFL shall also be entitled to exercise any of its rights under (a) Clause 17 of Chapter 1 and/or (b) this Clause 8 in the same manner as aforesaid without prior notice to the Client: (a) if any dispute arises in respect of any Client's delivery or transaction; (b) in the event of the Client's failure to settle in a timely manner his liabilities due to ESFL; (c) upon the insolvency of the Client or the filing of a petition in bankruptcy or a petition for the protection of creditors; (d) upon the appointment of a receiver; or (e) at any time when ESFL in its absolute and sole discretion considers it necessary or desirable for the protection of ESFL and/or any Eddid Financial company.
- 5.12 Failure by the Client to comply with the requirements of this Clause 5 shall constitute a Default under Clause 17 of Chapter 1.

6. Foreign Currency Transactions

- 6.1 If the Client instructs ESFL to enter into any contract which requires conversion from one currency to another, then:
- (a) The costs thereof and any profit or loss arising from fluctuations in the exchange rate of the relevant currency shall be borne by the Client and the Client shall bear the risk thereof;
 - (b) All sums first deposited and thereafter deposited in respect of margin requirements shall be paid in such currency and in such amounts as may be required by ESFL at its discretion; and
 - (c) Upon liquidation of such contract, ESFL shall credit or debit the amount in the Stock Options Account in such currency as ESFL may at its discretion determine and at such rate of exchange as ESFL may at its discretion determine.

7. Default by the Client

- 7.1 If the Client fails to comply with the Client's obligations under this Agreement and/or to settle the Client's Related Indebtedness under this Agreement, including failure to provide margin collateral, or upon the occurrence of any of the Default referred to in Chapter 1 (as determined by ESFL in its sole discretion), in addition to the rights and powers of ESFL or any Eddid Financial company under Clause 17 of Chapter 1, ESFL or any Eddid Financial company shall be entitled, in its absolute discretion and without notice to the Client and without prejudice to and in addition to the other rights and powers conferred by this Agreement and/or the Loan Agreement, to immediately:
- (a) Refuse to accept further instructions from the Client in respect of exchange traded stock options activities;
 - (b) Close out certain or all of the Client's contracts entered into by the Client with ESFL;
 - (c) Enter into contracts, enter into any transactions in securities or commodities (as defined in Chapter 7 "Terms and Conditions of Futures Transactions" ("Chapter 7")), enter into HKFE contracts (as defined in Chapter 7), enter into Futures/Options contracts (as defined in Chapter 7) to discharge obligations arising from or to hedge risks arising from a default by the Client;
 - (d) Sell, realize or otherwise dispose of the Margin (in whole or in part) in such manner and for such consideration as

ESFL may in its absolute discretion think fit and ESFL shall not be obliged to account to the Client for the exercise of its discretion and to apply the proceeds thereof to the repayment of all or part of the Client's Related Indebtedness; or

- (e) If the margin is insufficient, the Client shall immediately increase the margin at the request of ESFL, failing which ESFL shall be entitled to pursue the Client for all losses.

8. Liquidation of Positions

8.1 Without prejudice to the rights of ESFL under Clause 7, ESFL may close out all or any of the Client's positions without the Client's consent if, in the opinion of ESFL, the following changes have occurred or are in progress and will occur:

- (a) Changes in local, national or international monetary, financial, economic or political conditions or exchange controls which will result in, or in the opinion of ESFL will result in, significant or adverse movements in the Hong Kong and/or overseas stock markets or stock options markets; or
- (b) Changes which are or may be materially significant in nature and which will affect the position or operations of the Client.

The Authorized Person is appointed by the Client as its agent and has full authority to act on behalf of the Client under this Agreement as if it were the Client itself and has the power to issue good and valid receipts for any payments, money, funds, commodities, securities, property or assets paid or given to the Authorized Person in the Futures Account. All instructions given by an Authorized Person shall be and be deemed to be instructions of the Client and all acts, omissions, defaults or breaches by an Authorized Person (whether or not with the instructions or consent of the Client) shall be and be deemed to be acts, omissions, defaults and breaches of the Client. ESFL shall not be liable to the Client or any other person for the acts, omissions, defaults or breaches of the Authorized Person (whether or not with the direction or consent of the Client). For the purposes of this Agreement, the term "Client" shall include the Authorized Person where the context permits.

5. Form of Instructions

- 5.1 Subject to the provisions of these Terms and Conditions, the Client or his Authorized Person shall give all instructions in respect of such transactions directly to ESFL (whether orally, in person or by telephone) on the internet, by electronic means, through electronic trading facilities or by such other means of communication as ESFL may from time to time accept) in such manner as ESFL may from time to time specify. If an instruction is given by telephone, on the internet, by electronic means or by electronic trading facilities, ESFL shall be entitled to rely on and act in accordance with such instructions and shall not be required to enquire into or verify the authority or identity of the person making or giving or attempting to make or give such instructions, nor shall it be necessary to pay attention to the circumstances prevailing at the time of giving such instructions or to the amount involved in such instructions, notwithstanding any error, misleading (b) the person to whom such instructions are given shall not be obliged to give any consideration to the circumstances in which such instructions were given or to the amounts to which they relate, notwithstanding any error, misrepresentation, ambiguity, fraud, forgery or want of authority.
- 5.2 ESFL shall be entitled to treat instructions given pursuant to this Clause 5.1 as fully authorized by the Client and binding on the Client. ESFL shall be entitled (but not bound) to act or take such steps on or in accordance with such instructions as it in good faith considers appropriate notwithstanding any error or misleading element or lack of clarity as to the terms of such instructions.
- 5.3 If the Client or his Authorized Person gives instructions by telephone:
- (a) The Client or his Authorized Person must use the designated telephone number provided by ESFL from time to time ("Designated Telephone Number"). For the sake of clarity, any instruction given by telephone but not using a designated telephone number and any instruction given by way of a message left at any telephone number of ESFL or at the personal mobile telephone number of an employee or agent of ESFL shall not be deemed to be valid or effective for ESFL. (b) ESFL shall not be liable to the Client for any loss incurred by or in connection with any failure by the Client or its authorized persons to comply with these Terms and Conditions;
 - (b) Notwithstanding the Designated Telephone Number and the provisions of Clause 5.3(a) above, ESFL (but not the Client) shall have the absolute discretion to accept, act upon, carry out or give effect to any instruction given over the telephone (but not the Designated Telephone Number) ("Non-Designated Telephone Number Instruction"). If ESFL accepts, acts upon, carries out or validly completes any Non-Designated Telephone Number Instruction, such Non-Designated Telephone Number Instruction shall be deemed and treated for all purposes as an Instruction (as defined in these Terms and Conditions). All rights, protections, powers and remedies of ESFL shall apply to such Non-Designated Telephone Number Instruction; and
 - (c) ESFL shall not be liable for any delay, failure, error, interruption or suspension in the transmission or delivery of instructions or price information or for any other person receiving any instructions in error. ESFL is authorized to act in accordance with any instructions received by it (whether or not there is any delay, failure, error, interruption or suspension). ESFL is not required to check the accuracy or truthfulness of instructions given to the Client and ESFL shall not be liable for any loss or cost suffered or incurred by the Client as a result of ESFL acting in accordance with such instructions. If the Client wishes ESFL to act on telephone instructions, ESFL shall be entitled to require the Client to enter into further agreements.
- 5.4 In the case of instructions given through an electronic trading facility, the Client or an Authorized Person must:
- (a) Give instructions only in such manner and by such means as may from time to time be specified by ESFL in relation to the relevant class of transactions;
 - (b) Use appropriate devices (where applicable) to access the designated computer or other systems of ESFL in respect of the relevant class of transactions; and
 - (c) Give instructions at the request of ESFL (which may be made by electronic image or digital voice or other electronic means, as the case may be) by entering a designated number and/or relevant password and any other information that ESFL may require regarding the identity of the Client and information and details regarding the transaction.

- 5.5 The Client acknowledges the risks of giving instructions by telephone or electronic trading facilities, including (but not limited to) the risk that any instructions are not authorized or are given by unauthorized persons. If the Client chooses to give instructions by such means, the Client fully accepts such risks.
- 5.6 Once an instruction has been given by the Client, it cannot be amended, cancelled or revoked without the written consent of ESFL.
- 5.7 ESFL is not obliged to procure that the Client complies with any law or regulation governing his conduct as a fiduciary (if applicable).
- 5.8 ESFL and/or Eddid Trading Agent may aggregate the orders of the Client with its own orders or those of persons connected with ESFL or those of other Clients. Such aggregation may at times be disadvantage of the Client but at other times may be advantage of the Client. The Client agrees that if there are insufficient HKFE contracts and/or futures/options contracts to satisfy the aggregated orders, such transactions will be attributed to the relevant Client in the order in which the Client's orders are received by ESFL.
- 5.9 Where the Client acts as agent for and on behalf of any other person when giving instructions to ESFL under this Agreement, ESFL shall be entitled to treat the Client (and not any other person) as its Client for all purposes and for all obligations and the Client shall be liable therefor. This will apply even if the Client is acting on behalf of a person (who has been notified by the Client to ESFL) and such person will not be an "indirect Client".
- 5.10 The Client understands that ESFL is not in a position to know whether anyone (other than the Client) has given or is giving instructions using the Client's name or the Client's username or password. The Client shall not permit or allow any other person to have access to the Futures Account for any purpose. The Client shall be responsible for the confidentiality and use of the Client's name or the Client's user name or password and for any instructions given or made to the Client under such name or user name or password. The Client remains liable for all instructions given using the Client's name or the Client's username and password.
- 5.11 ESFL may accept electronic signatures from the Client or an Authorized Person provided that the Client or Authorized Person has submitted an electronic certificate to ESFL as proof. The Client agrees that ESFL shall be entitled to treat such electronic signature as a physical signature of the person concerned.
- 5.12 The Client acknowledges that it will be liable for and will indemnify ESFL against any losses, costs, charges and expenses incurred directly or indirectly arising out of or in connection with the Client's instructions and actions taken by ESFL thereunder.
- 5.13 The Client acknowledges and agrees that ESFL may exercise its absolute discretion to offset the margin of the Client's position in the Derivatives Clearing System via the Client Margin Matching Account.

6. Transactions

- 6.1 At its absolute discretion, ESFL has chosen the markets in which to arrange, execute, perform or give instructions in or through.
- 6.2 The Client authorizes ESFL to instruct Eddid Trading Agents, executing brokers, agents, custodians, nominees, overseas brokers and dealers (including branches or affiliates of ESFL) to execute any instructions and transactions as ESFL in its absolute discretion deems appropriate and such persons shall have the benefit of all the rights, powers and remedies of ESFL under this Agreement. The Client acknowledges that the terms of business of such persons and the applicable rules of any relevant exchange and/or clearing system for the execution and settlement of such instructions and such transactions shall apply to such instructions and such transactions.
- 6.3 All such transactions executed by ESFL on the instructions of the Client will be executed in accordance with all laws, rules and regulations of governmental bodies and statutory authorities (with jurisdiction) applicable to ESFL. All actions taken by ESFL in accordance with such laws, rules and instructions will be binding on the Client. In the absence of wilful misconduct or fraud by ESFL, ESFL shall not be liable to the Client for any action or omission taken by ESFL or by any person specified in Clause 6.2 for the purpose of complying with such laws, rules and instructions.

- 6.4 ESFL may from time to time publish on the Eddid Website explanatory statements relating to commodities, HKFE contracts or futures/options contracts. The Client acknowledges that it is his responsibility to read and fully understand such brochures before giving instructions and to review them regularly in order to obtain timely notification of any amendments. The Client further acknowledges that such explanatory statements and amendments are binding on him.
- 6.5 Due to environmental or natural constraints of any exchange, clearing house or market, as well as price fluctuations or basis point movements, there may be times and even with the reasonable efforts of ESFL, Eddid Trading Agent, Executing Broker, Overseas Broker or Dealer, there may be delays in the placing of prices, execution of orders or trading at any given time. The Client accepts that ESFL may not be able to trade or deal at the price or basis point specified by the Client and that ESFL may not be able to trade or deal at the price or basis point reported at any given time or at "best price", "best price quoted" or "market price". The Client agrees to accept and be bound by such transactions executed by ESFL pursuant to instructions in all circumstances and agrees that ESFL shall not be liable for any loss incurred by it as a result of its failure or inability to comply with any of the terms of the Client's instructions.
- 6.6 Where ESFL or the persons specified in this Clause 6.2 are unable to carry out any of the Client's orders in full, ESFL or such persons shall be entitled, without prior reference to or acknowledgement by the Client, to complete only part of the fulfilment of the orders effectively. The Client is bound by such part of the Client's order as may be fulfilled by ESFL. ESFL shall not have any obligation or liability in respect of such part of the Client's order as has not been fulfilled.
- 6.7 Unless specific instructions to the contrary are given by the Client to ESFL, the Client acknowledges that all orders or requests shall only be effective on that day and, to the extent not fulfilled, shall expire at the end of the official trading day of the Exchange or the market on which such orders and requests are placed.
- 6.8 Subject to applicable laws and regulations and market requirements, ESFL may, in its absolute discretion, determine the priority of execution of its Clients' orders after due consideration of the order in which such orders are received, and no Client shall have a claim against another Client for priority in the execution of any order received by ESFL.
- 6.9 The Client acknowledges that it will be liable for and will indemnify ESFL against any losses, costs, charges and expenses in connection with the Client's failure to perform its obligations or pay any other amounts owing to ESFL prior to the Settlement Date.
- 6.10 The Client will at all times pay all overdue balances in respect of the Futures Account or interest on any sums due to ESFL (including interest arising after collection of judgment debts from the Client) at such rate and on such other terms as ESFL may from time to time notify the Client (or if no such notice is given, at the rate of eight percent (8%)). Interest shall be payable on the last day of each calendar month or as soon as payment is demanded by ESFL.
- 6.11 The Client acknowledges that all telephone conversations between the Client and ESFL may be recorded without any automated telephone warning in order for ESFL to be able to verify the Client's instructions. In the event of any dispute, the Client agrees to accept the recording of the relevant tape as final and conclusive evidence of the contents of the instruction. Such tapes will always remain the property of ESFL.
- 6.12 The Client acknowledges that the books and records of ESFL relating to any instruction or transaction shall constitute conclusive evidence in all courts and for all purposes against the Client (except in the case of manifest error). For this purpose, a certificate signed by an authorized officer of ESFL in respect of any instruction or transaction (except in the case of obvious error) shall be conclusive and binding on the Client.
- 6.13 In relation to the operation of one or more Client accounts or the provision of services to Clients generally,

ESFL may, at its absolute discretion and without any liability, refuse to act on instructions or delay acting on instructions where ESFL is informed or suspected of a breach of security or questionable circumstances, and in such event ESFL will inform the Client of such matters as soon as possible.

- 6.14 In the event of the death or winding up of the Client, or in the event of the Client's incapacity or inability to manage and care for his property or business, until such time as Eddid Financial receives actual notice of the Client's death, winding up or incapacity or inability, all of Eddid Financial may, but is not bound to, continue to act on the instructions of the Client or the Authorized Person as if the Client were still alive, existing or competent to manage and care for the Client's property or undertaking.
- 6.15 If any relevant exchange and/or clearing house and/or ESFL on behalf of the Client has requested, through its agent who has entered into any HKFE contract and/or futures/options contract, a variation of any term or condition of such contract, ESFL will take all such action as it in its absolute discretion considers necessary or desirable in order to comply with such request or to avoid or minimize loss resulting from such request. All such actions shall be binding on the Client.
- 6.16 Access to every market in which a particular product, commodity, HKFE contract or futures/options contract may be traded may not be available to ESFL and/or Eddid Trading Agents. Exchanges or market creators may fail or refuse to adopt the prices quoted by them. Exchanges may take Client orders out of their automated execution systems and reprogramme them for manual processing (in which case there may be significant delays in executing Client orders). Any delay or failure of the Exchange's rules, policies, procedures or decisions or systems may prevent the execution of a Client's order, may result in a delay in the execution or fulfilment of a Client's order or may result in the execution of a Client's order at a price other than the best available. In no event shall ESFL be liable to the Client for any action, inaction, decision or determination of any exchange, market, clearing house or regulatory authority.
- 6.17 In the event that ESFL is unable to execute or carry out any instructions of the Client, ESFL may take any other action it deems appropriate. The Client understands that the Client will be liable for any consequences or expenses incurred by ESFL in connection with the above and understands that ESFL will not be liable for any loss that may be incurred as a result.
- 6.18 Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this Agreement, ESFL receives and executes instructions on the understanding that no commodities will be received or delivered or required to be received or delivered in respect of HKFE contracts or futures/options contracts entered into by ESFL on behalf of the Client and that cash delivery or payment shall only be made or required in respect of such contracts. Unless the Client's initial position is closed out, the Client will be required to pay or receive payment. Each HKFE contract or Futures/Options contract is entered into by ESFL on behalf of the Client on the understanding that ESFL and the Client expect to perform the contract by cash settlement or payment and that the HKFE contract or Futures/Options contract contains responsibilities on the part of ESFL and the Client to settle the contract by payment or receipt of money or funds. For open positions expiring during the month, the Client shall, at least five (5) Business Days prior to the Last Trading Day (for long positions) and at least five (5) Business Days prior to the Last Trading Day (for short positions), instruct ESFL to close out the position or pay ESFL all money, funds or documents delivered by the Client under the contract to enable ESFL to settle (in cash) the contract properly in accordance with the rules and regulations of the relevant exchange or clearing house, or the applicable laws of the relevant jurisdiction. If the Client fails to give such instructions, pay money, funds or documents to ESFL within the above period, ESFL may, without giving any notice, close out the relevant contract or pay or receive money or funds on behalf of the Client on such terms and in such manner as ESFL may in its absolute discretion determine. If the Client fails to give such instructions to ESFL and as a result ESFL becomes liable to receive or deliver commodities under the relevant HKFE contract or futures/options contract, ESFL will make all necessary arrangements and take such action to terminate, cancel, withdraw or discharge ESFL's obligations in respect thereof so that receipt or delivery of commodities is not required or necessary. All risks and expenses shall be borne by the Client. The Client shall indemnify ESFL against all costs, losses, claims, fines, penalties, taxes, damages and expenses incurred by ESFL in connection with any action taken under this section.

- 6.19 In the event that ESFL or its agent (as the case may be) fails for any reason to collect all or any amount of money or funds (whether from the relevant Exchange and/or Clearing House rules and regulations and/or the applicable laws of the relevant jurisdiction) due and payable to the Client in respect of any HKFE contract and/or Futures/Options Contract entered into by ESFL on behalf of the Client on the relevant Payment Due Date (whether from the relevant exchange and/or clearing house and/or any other person) in respect of which ESFL is obliged to pay any money or funds to the Client and will accordingly and in view of such failure be obliged to pay money or funds equal to the amount of money or funds actually received by ESFL in respect thereof.
- 6.20 ESFL shall not be obliged to provide the Client with information about any of the Client's positions and (unless instructed by the Client) shall not be obliged (but shall be entitled at the discretion of ESFL) to close out any position in the Futures Account on behalf of the Client. Nothing contained in these Terms and Conditions shall oblige ESFL to disclose to the Client any fact or thing which comes to its knowledge in the course of acting in any capacity on behalf of any other person in relation to itself.
- 6.21 At the request of ESFL, the Client shall promptly provide ESFL with such information as ESFL may require in respect of any HKFE contract or Futures/Options Contract entered into by ESFL on behalf of the Client in relation to the settlement and/or (in the case of an Options Contract) the exercise of any such Contract which is outstanding or (as the case may be) exercised.
- 6.22 ESFL may trade or deal in its own right or on behalf of any affiliate of ESFL, even though ESFL may also hold the same product, commodity, HKFE contract or futures/options contract which is not covered by an executed Client order and which may be executed at the same price. Any director, officer or employee of ESFL and/or Eddid Financial may trade for his/ her own account.
- 6.23 ESFL may choose to confirm the execution or cancellation of any Client's instructions by transmitting an electronic confirmation to the Client only by email or electronic trading facilities, or for security purposes by posting information on the Eddid Website (and sending the Client a notice of access and retrieval of information). The Client agrees to accept the electronic trade confirmation in lieu of a printed confirmation.
- 6.24 The confirmation may be delayed. The Client understands that reports and confirmations of execution or cancellation of instructions may be incorrect for various reasons, including but not limited to cancellation, modification or amendment by the Exchange or Clearing House. The confirmation may also be altered by ESFL, in which case the Client shall be bound by the actual execution of the instructions provided that the actual execution corresponds to the Client's instructions. In the event that ESFL confirms an error in execution or cancellation, coupled with an unreasonable delay by the Client in reporting the error, ESFL reserves the right to require the Client to accept such transactions or to delete such transactions from the Futures Account.
- 6.25 The Client agrees that if: (a) the Client does not receive firm confirmation of the execution or cancellation; (b) the confirmation received by the Client is inconsistent with the Client's instructions; (c) the Client receives a confirmation of execution or cancellation in respect of instructions not given by the Client; or (d) the Client receives a statement, confirmation or other information reflecting incorrect instructions, orders, trades, account balances, securities or futures positions, funds, margin positions or the history of such transactions, and will promptly notify ESFL of the matter.
- 6.26 The Client understands and agrees that ESFL may adjust the futures account to correct any errors. The Client agrees to immediately return any assets to which he is not entitled but which have been distributed to ESFL.

7. Margin & Fund

- 7.1 The Client agrees to provide and place in the Futures Account Margin, Variation Adjustment and Interest Rate Cash Adjustment (as defined in the Rules of the HKFE) (collectively, the "Margin Requirements" and in each case, the "Margin Requirements") and/or to provide such collateral, guarantees and other security for the Futures Account in such form, amount and on such terms as ESFL may from time to time determine in its absolute discretion. Such margin requirements as may be required by ESFL may exceed any margin requirements, variation adjustments or interest rate cash adjustments specified by any exchange or clearing house or by Eddid Trading Agent or brokerage house. ESFL may, at its discretion, change any margin requirement at any time without prior notice to the Client. If ESFL considers that additional margin, variation adjustments and interest rate cash adjustments are required, the Client agrees to deposit such additional margin, variation adjustments and interest rate cash adjustments with ESFL immediately upon request. No precedent has been established for such margin requirements. Changes to these margin requirements shall apply to existing and new positions in HKFE contracts and futures/options contracts affected by such changes.

- 7.2 Without prejudice to clauses 7.7 to 7.14 herein, the Client must satisfy or meet any call or payment requirement in respect of margin requirements immediately upon demand by ESFL. ESFL may close out any open position in any of its margin calls and demands which are not satisfied or fulfilled. The Client shall, upon request, provide funds or money for or arrange for ESFL to be provided with funds or money in a timely manner to enable ESFL to discharge any liability incurred or to be incurred by ESFL in connection with the valid completion of transactions, purchases and sales or such transactions in respect of the Futures Account. The Client shall, upon request, reimburse ESFL for all costs and expenses incurred by ESFL in connection with the valid completion of transactions, purchases and sales or such transactions and/or the payment or settlement of any outstanding amounts under the Futures Account.
- 7.3 ESFL may require the reporting to the HKFE and/or overseas futures exchanges of details of all open positions in respect of which the Client has failed on two consecutive occasions to satisfy margin requirements or additional margin requirements for calls or payments at the request of ESFL within the period specified by ESFL.
- 7.4 ESFL shall not be liable to pay interest on money or funds paid to or received by ESFL in respect of futures accounts, whether for deposit or otherwise as stated. ESFL shall be entitled to retain for its own benefit any interest or other realized income or appreciation earned or received in respect of such money or funds. ESFL shall be entitled at any time to charge and the Client agrees at any time to pay to ESFL interest at such rate as may from time to time be specified by ESFL on any money or funds due to ESFL in respect of any deficit or otherwise. If no such notice is given, interest shall be calculated at the rate of eight percent (8%). Interest shall be payable on the last day of each calendar month or immediately upon demand by ESFL.
- 7.5 All monies, approved debt securities and other property received by ESFL from or for the account of the Client from any other person (including a Clearing House) shall be held by ESFL as trustee separate and apart from the assets of ESFL itself and all such assets held by ESFL shall not form part of the assets of ESFL for insolvency or liquidation purposes, but shall be returned to the Client immediately upon the appointment of a provisional liquidator, liquidator or similar officer in respect of all or any part of the business or assets of ESFL.
- 7.6 All monies, approved debt securities or approved securities received by ESFL from the Client or from any other person (including the Futures Clearing Corporation) shall be held in the manner specified in paragraphs 7 to 12 of Schedule 4 to the Code of Conduct. The Client hereby authorizes ESFL to apply any of the above amounts, Approved Debt Securities or Approved Securities in the manner specified in paragraphs 14 to 15 of Schedule 4 of the Code of Conduct. In particular, ESFL may apply such money, Approved Debt Securities or Approved Securities to or in satisfaction of any indebtedness owed by ESFL to any person to the extent that such Related Indebtedness is in connection with or incidental to the transaction of futures option business carried out by ESFL on behalf of the Client.
- 7.7 The Client acknowledges that for the purposes of any account maintained by ESFL with the Clearing House, whether or not such account is maintained in whole or in part in connection with the trading of futures/options contracts (on behalf of the Client) and whether or not the money or approved debt securities paid by the Client are paid to ESFL and/or the Clearing House, such account is an account between ESFL and ESFL and/or the Clearing House. ESFL is trading as principal and accordingly no trust or other equitable interest is granted to the Client in this account and neither money nor Approved Debt Securities paid to Eddid Trading Agent and/or Clearing House are subject to the trust restrictions referred to in clause 7.5.
- 7.8 The Client shall supervise the Futures Account so that at all times there is sufficient account balance in the Futures Account to meet the applicable margin requirements. Such margin requirement may be amended at any time at the absolute and absolute discretion of ESFL for the Client in respect of open positions and new contracts or open positions and new transactions. ESFL may refuse any instruction or order from the Client if the Client does not have sufficient account balance to meet such margin requirement in addition to the correct margin position of the regular futures account and there may be a delay in processing any instruction or order. The Client shall at all times maintain an account balance sufficient to continue to meet such margin requirements without notice or demand from ESFL. The Client shall satisfy any margin requirement calculated by ESFL in full.

- 7.9 ESFL shall not be obliged to notify the Client of any failure to meet such margin requirements in the Futures Account until ESFL has exercised its rights, powers, discretion and remedies under this Agreement. The Client understands that ESFL generally does not make calls or demands for payment with respect to margin requirements and that ESFL generally does not make credits to the Futures Account to meet any shortfall in margin requirements and that ESFL is authorized to close out, liquidate or liquidate open positions in the Futures Account without prior notice to the Client in order to satisfy such margin requirements and/or to exercise any of its rights under Clause 17 to satisfy such margin requirements.
- 7.10 In the event that the balance of the Futures Account is zero capital or in deficit, or if the Futures Account does not have sufficient account balance to meet such margin requirements, ESFL shall have the right, in its sole discretion, but not the obligation, to close out, liquidate or wind up all or any part of the Client's position in the Futures Account and/or exercise any of its rights under Clause 17 at any time and in such manner and in any Market as ESFL deems necessary, without prior notice demand or call to the Client. The Client agrees to be responsible for and to pay immediately to ESFL any deficiency in the Futures Account that arise from such closing out, liquidation, settlement or exercise of rights. ESFL shall not have any liability to the Client for any loss or damages sustained by the Client in connection with such closing out, liquidation, settlement or exercise of rights (or if ESFL experiences a delay in effecting, or does not effect, such closing out, liquidation or settlement, or in exercising, or does not exercise such rights) even if the Client subsequently re-established its position at a less favorable price or point.
- 7.11 The Client expressly waives and relinquishes any right to receive prior notice or demand from ESFL and agrees that any prior demand, notice, announcement or advertisement shall not be deemed to be a waiver of ESFL's right to close out, liquidate or settle any open positions of the Client or exercise any of its rights under Clause 17. The Client understands that, in the event open position is closed out, liquidated or settled by ESFL or ESFL exercises such rights, the Client shall have no the right or opportunity to determine the open position to be liquidated, the order or manner of closing out, liquidation or settlement or the manner of exercising such rights by ESFL. ESFL may, in its absolute and sole discretion, effect closing out, liquidation or settlement, or exercise such rights on any Exchange or Market, ESFL or its associated company may take the other side of such closing out, liquidating or settlement transaction. In the event that ESFL closes out, liquidates or settles any or all open positions in the Futures Account or exercises such rights, such closing out, liquidation or settlement or exercise of rights shall establish the amount of the Client's gain or loss and indebtedness to ESFL, if any. The Client shall reimburse and hold ESFL harmless for all actions, omissions, costs, expenses, fees (including, but not limited to, legal fees), penalties, losses, claims or liabilities associated with any such Transaction undertaken by ESFL or any exercise of such rights by ESFL. The Client shall be liable to and responsible for all resulting losses on the Client's positions, notwithstanding ESFL's delay in or failure to close out, liquidate or settle any such open positions or exercise such rights. If ESFL executes an order for which the Client did not have sufficient funds, ESFL has the right, without notice to the Client, to liquidate the Transaction and the Client shall be responsible for any loss as a result of such liquidation, including any costs, and shall not be entitled to any profit that results from such liquidation.
- 7.12 The Client irrevocably and unconditionally authorizes ESFL to transfer, debit or deduct any money from the Futures Account and/or such account for the purpose of paying, releasing, satisfying and discharging the Client's liabilities, debts and Related Indebtedness to ESFL arising from, incurred in connection with and in connection with this Agreement, including but not limited to the outstanding purchase amounts, fees (including but not limited to market information fee), fees, charges, expenses, commissions and interest payable by the Client under this Agreement. The Client acknowledges and agrees that such deductions may affect the amount of money in the Futures Account to be used to meet such Margin requirements. If the deduction of commissions, fees or other charges results in the Futures Account not having sufficient balance to meet such margin requirements, the Client's open positions are subject to liquidation, settlement or winding up as described in these Terms and Conditions and ESFL may exercise any of its rights under Clause 17.

- 7.13 If for any reason ESFL does not execute a Close Out, Liquidation or Settlement and ESFL makes a call or demand for payment to the Client in respect of the Margin Requirement, the Client must immediately satisfy such call or demand for payment. The Client agrees to immediately deposit immediately available funds into the futures account to cover in full any open positions that are short of margin in order to satisfy margin calls or payments issued by ESFL. Notwithstanding any such margin call or demand, the Client confirms to ESFL that ESFL may, at its sole discretion, at any time close out, liquidate or settle the Client's open positions or exercise any of its rights under Clause 17.
- 7.14 ESFL shall also have the right to close out, liquidate or settle all or part of the Client's open positions in the same manner as aforesaid without prior notice to the Client: (a) in the event of any dispute arising in respect of any of the Client's transactions or any of the Client's transactions; (b) following the Client's failure to comply in a timely manner with his obligations to ESFL; (c) after the Client becomes insolvent or files a petition in bankruptcy or a petition for the protection of creditors; (d) after the appointment of an insolvency representative; or (e) at any time when ESFL considers in its absolute and sole discretion that liquidation, winding up or settlement is necessary or desirable for the protection of ESFL and/or Eddid Financial.
- 7.15 The Client's failure to comply with this Clause 7 shall constitute a Default under this Clause 17.

8. Deposit of Money or funds

- 8.1 The Client shall pay money or funds to ESFL in person or deposit such money or funds directly into a bank account designated by ESFL. ESFL may, at its sole and absolute discretion, refuse to accept any money or funds deposited by any person other than the Client or its authorized person ("Third Party").
- 8.2 ESFL does not accept cheques drawn on third parties for the deposit of money or funds. Only ESFL may, at its absolute discretion, accept the transfer of immediately available funds from a Third Party to an account designated by it as a deposit on behalf of the Client.
- 8.3 The Client or the third party (as the case may be) shall, immediately after depositing funds with ESFL, fax to ESFL during office hours on the day of deposit a deposit slip and/or other documentary evidence of acceptance of the deposited funds by ESFL from time to time (bearing the Client's name, futures account number and signature ("Evidence of Payment")) or deliver to ESFL in person as evidence of payment. The Client acknowledges and understands that funds deposited with ESFL (whether by the Client or a third party) may not be credited to the Client's futures account or reflected in any account statement until ESFL is notified thereof.
- 8.4 The Client acknowledges and understands that it is the responsibility of the Client or a third party (as the case may be) to hold evidence of payment until such time as evidence of payment is provided to ESFL. ESFL shall not be responsible or liable to the Client for any loss incurred by or in connection with the Client's or a third party's (as the case may be) failure to provide evidence of payment to ESFL in a timely or punctual manner or the use of evidence of payment by a third party (whether or not with the Client's instructions or consent).
- 8.5 The Client will retain the original evidence of payment for at least one (1) month from the date of deposit. Account statements will be issued by ESFL to the Client for record and verification as soon as possible after the deposit is made. The Client shall immediately notify ESFL if the Client does not receive the account statement after the deposit has been made.
- 8.6 The Client acknowledges that he understands and accepts the risk of depositing money or funds via the Internet into the designated bank account of ESFL for the purpose of buying futures or settling transactions ("Online Deposit"). 25.2 The Client hereby acknowledges that any information communicated to the Client by ESFL, although obtained from sources believed by ESFL to be reliable, has not been independently verified by ESFL and may be incomplete, inaccurate or subject to change without notice to the Client. The Client acknowledges that any such information is provided by ESFL to the Client for purely informational or purely indicative purposes and is not intended as investment advice or for trading or other purposes. ESFL makes no representation or warranty as to the sequence, accuracy, truth, reliability, adequacy, timeliness, completeness or correctness of such information. Neither ESFL nor Eddid Financial shall have any responsibility or liability for any information or opinions given or expressed by them or any of their directors, officers, employees or agents to the Client (whether or not such information or opinions are given or expressed at the request of the Client).

25.3 The Client is responsible for making his own judgement and decisions in relation to any transactions he enters into. ESFL is under no obligation to provide any investment advice or recommendation to the Client and no advice or information provided by any representative of ESFL shall be deemed or relied upon by the Client as investment advice unless ESFL has expressly agreed otherwise. The Client understands that ESFL or one or more of its Eddid Financial may purchase or sell, hold or hold the commodities or HKFE contracts or futures/options contracts or financial instruments described in the information provided to the Client and that the positions or transactions of ESFL or any Eddid Financial company may or may not correspond to the information provided to the Client by ESFL. No communication between ESFL and the Client or description given to the Client in connection with any instruction or transaction under this Agreement shall be deemed to be investment advice or a recommendation to enter into any transaction under this Agreement.

25.4 If ESFL solicits the sale or recommendation of any financial product to the Client, such financial product must be one that ESFL considers reasonably suitable for the Client having regard to the Client's financial situation, investment experience and investment objectives. Nothing in this Agreement or any other document which ESFL may require the Client to sign and no statement which ESFL may require the Client to make shall derogate from the effect of these Terms and Conditions. For the purposes of this clause, "Financial Product" means any security, futures contract or leveraged foreign exchange trading contract as defined in the SFO. In relation to "Leveraged Foreign Exchange Trading Contracts", it applies only to such leveraged foreign exchange trading contracts traded by a person licensed to carry on a Type 3 regulated activity.

26. Investor Compensation Fund

26.1 If ESFL commits a default within the meaning of Part XII of the Securities and Futures Ordinance and the Client suffers pecuniary loss as a result, the Client understands that the right to claim compensation from the Investor Compensation Fund established under Part XII of the Securities and Futures Ordinance will be limited to the extent provided for in the Ordinance.

26.2 Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Client fully understands that the right to claim compensation from the Investor Compensation Fund referred to in this Clause 26.1 will not apply to any instructions given or transactions entered into in overseas jurisdictions.

27. Relevant Provisions

27.1 Without prejudice to any other provisions of this Agreement and in addition to any other provisions of this Agreement, all such transactions entered into on the HKFE shall be subject to the following provisions:

(a) Each HKFE contract shall be subject to the payment of an Investor Compensation Fund (as defined in the Rules of the Futures Exchange) and a levy payable under the Securities and Futures Ordinance, both of which shall be at the expense of the Client;

- (b) In the event that a Client suffers pecuniary loss as a result of a default by ESFL, the Investor Compensation Fund (as defined in the Rules of the HKFE) will be limited to valid claims as provided in the SFO and will be limited to the monetary limits stated in the SFO. Accordingly, there is no assurance that any monetary loss sustained by a Client as a result of such default will be fully, partially or at all compensated from the Investor Compensation Fund (as defined in the Rules of the HKFE);
- (c) For transactions involving the trading of futures/options contracts entered into on markets (other than those operated by the HKFE), such transactions will be subject to the rules and regulations of those markets (and not the rules and regulations of the HKFE), which may result in Clients' receiving a level and type of protection from the market for such transactions that is materially different from the level and type of protection provided by the rules, regulations (as defined in the HKFE Rules) and procedures (as defined in the HKFE Rules) of the HKFE;
- (d) The Client acknowledges that, subject to the provisions of the SFO and any applicable law, ESFL may take orders contrary to the Client's orders in respect of any HKFE contract and/or Futures/Options Contract, whether for itself or for the account of any other Client of any Eddid Financial company or for ESFL, provided that such transactions are on an arm's length basis and in accordance with the HKFE rules, regulations (as defined in the rules of the HKFE) and procedures (as defined in the rules of the HKFE) executed on or through the facilities of the HKFE or on or through the facilities of other exchanges in accordance with the rules of such other exchanges;
- (e) The Client agrees and acknowledges that the Futures Clearing Corporation may do all things necessary to transfer any open positions held by ESFL on behalf of the Client and any monies and securities in the Client's account maintained by ESFL to the account of another HKFE participant in the event that ESFL's rights as a HKFE participant are suspended or revoked by HKFE;
- (f) The Client acknowledges that ESFL is bound by the rules of the HKFE. The HKFE Rules permit the HKFE or the Chief Executive Officer (as defined in the HKFE Rules) to take steps to limit positions or to require that contracts may be closed out on behalf of the Client because, in the opinion of the HKFE or the Chief Executive Officer (as defined in the HKFE Rules), the Client's accumulated positions are or may be detrimental to any one or more markets or are or may be prejudicial to the fair and orderly operation of one or more markets (as the case may be) the operation of which is adversely affecting;
- (g) ESFL shall provide the Client with details of the margin procedures and the circumstances under which the Client's position may be closed out without the Client's consent in the Client's Contract Specification (as defined in the HKFE Rules); and
- (h) The Client acknowledges and accepts that if any trading limit or position limit imposed under the Rules of the HKFE (as defined in the Rules of the HKFE) is exceeded in respect of ESFL, the Chief Executive Officer (as defined in the Rules of the HKFE) shall have the right to require ESFL to be closed out or to transfer the number of open positions (which may include all or part of the Client's open positions) to another member in accordance with the Rules of the Clearing House so that (in the opinion of the Chief Executive Officer (as defined in the Rules of the HKFE)) the position limit for ESFL is met.

27.2 Without prejudice to, and in addition to, any other provisions of this Agreement, all such transactions entered into in the market (other than the market operated by the HKFE) shall be subject to the following provisions:

- (a) The Client acknowledges and agrees that such transactions will be subject to Overseas Futures Exchange Rules, which may result in the Client receiving a level and type of protection from the Market in respect of such transactions that is significantly different from the level and type of protection provided by the Rules, Regulations (as defined in the HKFE Rules) and Procedures (as defined in the HKFE Rules) of HKFE;

- (b) The Client acknowledges that, subject to the provisions of any applicable law, ESFL may, either for itself or for the account of any other Client of any Eddid Financial company or of ESFL, take orders contrary to the Client's orders in respect of any HKFE contract and/or Futures/Options Contract, provided that such transactions are executed on an arm's length basis in accordance with the Overseas Futures Exchange Rules on or through the facilities of an overseas futures exchange;
- (c) The Client agrees and acknowledges that a clearing house other than the Futures Clearing Corporation may do all things necessary to transfer any open positions held by ESFL on behalf of the Client, and any monies and securities in the Client's account held by ESFL, to the account of another member of an overseas futures exchange in the event that the membership rights of ESFL are suspended or revoked by the overseas futures exchange;
- (d) The Client authorizes ESFL to apply any money or approved debt securities which may be paid to ESFL by the Client in the manner prescribed by the relevant Overseas Futures Exchange Rules. In particular, ESFL may apply such money to satisfy its obligations to any person provided that such obligations arise in connection with or incidental to the trading of futures/options contracts carried out by ESFL on behalf of the Client;
- (e) The Client acknowledges that ESFL is bound by the relevant Overseas Futures Exchange Rules. Such overseas futures exchange rules may permit an overseas futures exchange to take steps to limit positions or require that contracts may be closed out on behalf of the Client where, in the opinion of the overseas futures exchange, the Client has accumulated positions which are or may be detrimental to any one or more markets or are or may be adversely affecting the fair and orderly functioning of one or more markets, as the case may be;
- (f) The Client acknowledges and agrees that the contract specifications, product specifications, instruction manuals, risk disclosure statements, disclaimers, margin provision procedures and details of the circumstances under which the Client's position may be closed out without the Client's consent may from time to time be published on the Eddid website and shall be binding on the Client; and
- (g) The Client acknowledges and accepts that if any trading limit or position limit imposed under the rules of an overseas futures exchange is exceeded in respect of an ESFL, the relevant institution has the right to require ESFL to be closed out or to transfer the number of open positions (which may include all or part of the Client's open positions) to another member in accordance with the rules of the clearing house in order to bring ESFL (in the opinion of the overseas futures exchange) into compliance with position limit.

28. Joint and Several Liabilities/Successors

28.1 Where the Client includes more than one person (whether in a partnership or otherwise):

- (a) The term "Client" shall include each relevant person ("Joint Client") and the obligations of the Joint Clients under this Agreement shall be joint and several;
- (b) A demand for payment from any one or more of the Joint Clients shall be deemed to be a valid demand on all of the Joint Clients;
- (c) ESFL and any Eddid Financial company shall be entitled to deal with any matter separately from any of the Joint Clients, including the release of any one or more of the Joint Clients from their obligations under this Agreement, or to join with any such person, to accept a debt restructuring agreement with any such person, or to enter into any other debt repayment arrangement with any such person, with the result that it shall not be necessary to release or prejudice or affect its rights against any other Joint Client rights and remedies;
- (d) Each Joint Client shall waive in favour of all of Eddid Financial the right of any one or all of Eddid Financial to prove the bankruptcy or insolvency of any Joint Client and no Joint Client shall obtain any counter-collateral from any other Joint Client without the prior consent of all of Eddid Financial;
- (e) Any discharge, realization or performance by any Eddid Financial company of any indebtedness, debt or obligation under this Agreement in favour of or for the benefit of any Joint Client shall be and be deemed to be a full and complete discharge, realization or performance of any indebtedness, debt or obligation under this Agreement in favour of or for the benefit of all of the Joint Clients. Any payment of money or funds by any Eddid Financial company to or in favour of any of the Joint Clients shall be and be deemed to be a full and complete discharge, satisfaction or performance of the payment of money or funds to or in favour of any or all of the Joint Clients;

- (f) This Agreement shall not be affected by the death, incapacity or dissolution of any of the Joint Clients;
- (g) The termination of this Agreement by any one or more of the Joint Clients or its or their personal representatives in accordance with this Clause 30 shall not affect the continuing obligations of the other Joint Clients;
- (h) ESFL shall have a lien on the property of each of the Joint Clients (including but not limited to the Futures Account). The lien of ESFL must be in addition to the rights and remedies of ESFL under this Agreement;
- (i) The Joint Clients have authorized ESFL to accept any instructions (including but not limited to oral or written instructions) from one of the Joint Clients' dollar persons (the "Person") individually to ESFL. Such person shall be entitled to handle any operations in the Futures Account and to exercise all rights, powers and discretion under this Agreement on behalf of the other Joint Clients. ESFL may act in accordance with any instructions given by such person without giving notice of such instructions to the other Joint Clients or all Joint Clients or obtaining a power of attorney from the other Joint Clients or all Joint Clients in respect of such instructions. ESFL shall have absolute discretion as to whether to accept such instructions and shall not be liable for the consequences of such acceptance or otherwise. Any act, conduct, direction, decision and/or authority of any Joint Client shall be binding on the other Joint Clients individually and collectively;
- (j) ESFL shall have no liability (including, but not limited to a duty of enquiry or performance) in respect of any money or property employed between the Joint Clients;
- (k) No Joint Client shall have the right to claim or assert any interest, benefit, ownership or title in any particular or specified commodity and/or HKFE contract and/or futures/options contract in the Futures Account separately or exclusively from any other Joint Client;
- (l) The Joint Clients have survivor access rights at the time of entering into this agreement;
- (m) In the event of the death of any Joint Client, the personal representative of the deceased Joint Client or the surviving Joint Client will immediately notify ESFL in writing of such death and submit and deliver to ESFL a true copy of such proof of death and such other documents as ESFL may require in its absolute discretion but ESFL is not required to certify the authenticity of the evidence provided; and
- (n) Each Joint Client shall be bound by this Agreement notwithstanding any arrangement or agreement between the Joint Clients and notwithstanding that this Agreement may be invalid or unenforceable in respect of any one or more of the Joint Clients (whether or not ESFL is aware of the deficiency).

29. Single and Continuing Agreement

- 29.1 This Agreement and all of its provisions shall be of a continuing nature and shall individually and collectively cover all futures accounts which the Client may from time to time open and maintain with ESFL and each order executed by ESFL shall be subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement. The Client hereby acknowledges that all such transactions executed for the Client are executed by ESFL on the basis of the relevant facts as if the representations, undertakings and warranties given by the Client to ESFL in this Clause 16 had been repeated prior to each such transaction and that no such transaction will be entered into separately by the parties.

30. Termination

- 30.1 This Agreement shall only be valid and effective if terminated by the Client by prior written notice to ESFL. The prior written notice referred to above shall not be valid and effective until such notice is actually received by ESFL. The effective date of termination of this Agreement as set out in the notice will be at least seven business days after receipt of such notice by ESFL. This Agreement may be terminated at any time at the discretion of ESFL upon notice to the Client. Termination of this Agreement shall not affect or prejudice:

- (a) Such debts, debts or liabilities of the Client existing, arising or incurred under this Agreement, the Loan Agreement and/or any agreement entered into with any Eddid Financial company at or prior to the termination of this Agreement, including but not limited to such Related Indebtedness or liabilities of the Client arising out of or in connection with open positions or such transactions not entered into at the time of termination of this Agreement;
- (b) Such indebtedness, debts or liabilities of the Client arising out of or in connection with any consents, warranties, representations, undertakings and indemnities given by the Client under this Agreement, the Loan Agreement and/or any agreement entered into with any Eddid Financial company;
- (c) The right and power to close out, transfer or settle all open positions of the Client or outstanding such transactions and to take such actions or do such acts and things as are incidental to or in connection with the closing out, transfer or settlement referred to in this section; and
- (d) Take the rights and powers incidental to or in connection with the termination, closing, consolidation, settlement or delivery of the Client's relevant obligations, debts or liabilities under this Agreement or doing of the relevant act and thing in connection therewith.

30.2 Upon termination of this Agreement in accordance with Clause 30.1, all sums payable or owing by the Client to ESFL under this Agreement shall become immediately due and payable. Notwithstanding any instruction by the Client to the contrary, ESFL shall cease to have any obligation to validly complete any transaction on behalf of the Client in accordance with the provisions of this Agreement.

30.3 As soon as practicable after the termination of this Agreement, ESFL shall be entitled to sell, liquidate, redeem, unwind or otherwise dispose of all or part of Client's Commodities, HKFE Contracts or Futures/Options Contracts for consideration and in such manner as ESFL shall in its absolute discretion deem necessary to first reimburse ESFL for all costs, charges, fees and expenses (including legal expenses) incurred by ESFL in connection with such sale, liquidation, redemption, unwind or other disposition fees, charges, costs and expenses (including legal expenses), and amounts payable or owing under this Agreement, and other accumulated liabilities (whether actual or contingent, present or future, or otherwise) payable to ESFL and outstanding. Secondly, all other Related Indebtedness for which the Client is solely responsible for the risk and payment and for which no liability is incurred by ESFL for any loss or damages incurred by the Client.

30.4 Any cash proceeds remaining after the settlement of all amounts specified in this Clause 30.3 shall be credited to the Settlement Account.

30.5 If there is a debit balance in the Futures Account after the application of the proceeds of sale in accordance with this Clause 30.3, the Client shall forthwith pay to ESFL an amount equal to such debit balance plus the cost to ESFL of paying such amount plus interest at the rate of eight percent (8%) to the date of actual receipt of full payment by ESFL (on and before Judgment).

31. Force Majeure

31.1 Neither party shall be liable to the other for any loss suffered directly or indirectly by the other party if either party is prevented from acting directly or indirectly by governmental restrictions, the imposition of emergency procedures or suspension of trading on any relevant exchange, clearing house or market, riots, acts or threats of terrorism, natural disasters, war, strikes or other circumstances beyond the control of third parties.

32. Combination and Set-off

32.1 Notwithstanding any provision contained in this Agreement, the Loan Agreement or any other agreement entered into between any Eddid Financial company and the Client, the Client irrevocably and unconditionally authorizes and directs ESFL, with or without notice, to set off and retain, or apply to the payment, settlement or repayment of retained property, securities, receivables, money or funds held in or for the Futures Account or any other account opened with ESFL or any Eddid Financial company, in whole or in part, any liability, debt or Related Indebtedness of any nature due from the Client to ESFL or any Eddid Financial company (whether primary, secured, separate, joint or denominated in other currencies and whether related to a futures account or any other previously cancelled account).

- 32.2 Without prejudice to the generality of Clause 32.1, if the Client has more than one account with Eddid Financial, any Eddid Financial company is hereby authorized by the Client to consolidate or combine all or any of such accounts at any time without notice to the Client and to set off, apply or transfer any retained property, money, funds, securities, commodities, property or assets held in any one or more of such accounts to (b) to pay, discharge or repay any liabilities, debts or Related Indebtedness of any nature (actual or contingent, primary or secured, joint or several) of the Client to any other account(s) of any Eddid Financial company in relation to any such account(s). Where any such merger, consolidation, set-off or transfer requires the conversion of one currency into another currency, such conversion will be calculated at the spot rate of exchange prevailing in the foreign exchange market deemed relevant by any one Eddid Financial at the date of the merger, consolidation, set-off or transfer.
- 32.3 All money or other property received by or for the Client from any other person under this Agreement will be held by ESFL and will be segregated from the assets of ESFL itself and paid into a segregated corporate account within a reasonable time after receipt of such money or other property by ESFL.
- 32.4 The Client acknowledges that as between ESFL or any Eddid Financial company and the relevant Clearing House, ESFL (or any Eddid Financial company as the case may be) is deemed to be the principal in respect of any account maintained by ESFL or any Eddid Financial company with any Clearing House (whether or not the relevant account is maintained in whole or in part on behalf of the Client in respect of any Transaction and whether or not the money paid by the Client is paid to such Clearing House).

33. Authorization

- 33.1 The Client irrevocably and unconditionally gives directions, instructions and authority to ESFL and upon request, direction, instruction or demand by Eddid Financial from time to time, ESFL shall do the following acts and things:
- (a) Sell, purchase, enter into, make, dispose of, deal in, trade in, transfer in, transfer out, liquidate, close out, settle or deliver all or any Commodity and/or HKFE contracts and/or Futures/Options Contracts and/or positions in a Futures Account; and

- 33.3 The Client agrees and accepts that all acts, things and matters done or to be done by ESFL pursuant to this Clause 33 shall be and be deemed to be acts, things and matters done or to be done by the Client and shall be absolutely binding on the Client in all respects and for all purposes.

34. Communications, Notice and Services

- 34.1 Except as otherwise stated in this Agreement, any notice to be given or given by the Client to ESFL under this Agreement shall be in writing.
- 34.2 Without prejudice to the other provisions of this Agreement relating to communications or notices from ESFL and the right to communicate in any manner or by any means available to ESFL, any reports, confirmations, statements, notices and other communications from ESFL to the Client under this Agreement may be delivered personally, by mail, telex, fax or email to the address, telex, fax number and email address of the Client as stated in the Account Opening Form, its registered office or such other address, telex, fax number or email address as the Client may notify ESFL in writing (effective 24 hours after receipt of notice by ESFL). The contents of any such report, confirmation, statement, notice or communication shall be and be deemed to be correct, accurate and conclusive and the Client shall have no objection thereto unless written objection is actually received by ESFL from the Client within four (4) days after hand delivery, telex or facsimile transmission or email or posting.

37. Severability

- 37.1 Any provision of this Agreement which is illegal, invalid or unenforceable for any reason in any jurisdiction shall be ineffective to the extent of such illegality, invalidity or unenforceability, but the legality, validity or enforceability of the remaining provisions of this Agreement or the legality, validity or enforceability of such provision in other jurisdictions shall not be affected. However, if any applicable law may be waived, the parties waive such provisions to the extent permitted by such law so that this Agreement becomes a valid and binding agreement enforceable in accordance with its terms and conditions.

38. Assignment

- 38.1 The Client shall not assign, transfer, assign, charge, delegate or otherwise dispose of any of its rights, interests, benefits, Related Indebtedness or obligations under this Agreement. ESFL may assign or transfer any of its rights and obligations under this Agreement without the prior consent of the Client. Any transferee, assignee or successor of ESFL shall have the same interest, rights, benefits, liabilities and remedies as if it were an ESFL. ESFL may delegate the performance of its obligations under this Agreement as it deems appropriate.
- 38.2 Upon the assignment and transfer by ESFL to another intermediary (as defined in the Securities and Futures Ordinance) of all of its rights and obligations under this Agreement (whether based on restructuring or transfer of business or otherwise), the Client undertakes to give written instructions to ESFL or its Associated Entity authorizing ESFL or its Associated Entity to transfer to the Transferee Intermediary all of the Client's Commodity and/or HKFE Contracts and/or Futures/Options Contracts held by ESFL or its Associated Entity, failing which ESFL will terminate the Futures Account in accordance with Clause 30.

39. Successors and assignees

40. Miscellaneous Provisions

- 40.1 This Agreement supersedes all prior engagements, arrangements, agreements and contracts, whether oral or written, of ESFL. No warranties or representations, express or implied, have been given by or on behalf of ESFL in connection with this Agreement prior to the execution of this Agreement. If any such warranties or representations, whether express or implied, are made, they shall be withdrawn or deemed to be withdrawn immediately prior to the signing of this Agreement by ESFL. However, this Agreement does not and will not supersede all contracts, arrangements, agreements and contracts (whether oral or written and whether past, present or future) given by the Client to ESFL for its benefit and does not affect any or all of the Related Indebtedness, obligations or liabilities (whether oral or written and whether past, present or future) given by the Client to ESFL.

ESFL will notify the Client of new amendments and the Client may from time to time access the ESFL website to obtain the latest version of this Agreement and to read its terms. Such amendment, deletion, replacement or addition shall be effective on the date of publication of the amendment notice on the Eddid Website and shall be deemed to be incorporated into this Agreement. The Client may object in writing to ESFL within 14 days after the date of publication of the amendment notice on the Eddid Website. Failure to do so shall be deemed acceptance of the amendment, deletion, replacement or addition.
- 40.4 Any complaint regarding the performance of the obligations of ESFL under this Agreement must be made in writing and sent to the Complaints Officer with an attachment to ESFL. The Complaints Officer will investigate the complaint. The Client agrees to provide the Complaints Officer with all relevant information that the Complaints Officer may reasonably request to enable the Complaints Officer to investigate the complaint.
- 40.5 The Client acknowledges that, in the event of any discrepancy between the English version and the Chinese version, the English version shall prevail.

3. Financing of Margin Requirement

- 3.1 The purpose of the Credit Facility is to finance margin requirements of Clients from time to time.
- 3.2 ESFL has the absolute discretion to determine the amount, limit or percentage of Financing of Margin Requirement. Any balance of margin requirements in excess of the amount of margin requirements provided by ESFL is referred to as "such residual margin requirements" and each of them is referred to as a "residual margin requirement".

4. Margin Requirements of Outstanding & Fund

- 4.1 The Client agrees to provide and maintain in the Futures Margin Financing Account such Residual Margin Requirements and/or collateral, guarantees and other security for the Futures Margin Financing Account in such form and amount and on such terms as ESFL may in its absolute discretion determine from time to time. Such residual margin requirements requested or required by ESFL may exceed any margin requirements, variation adjustments or interest rate cash adjustments (as defined in the rules of the HKFE) specified by any exchange or clearing house or by Eddid Trading Agent or Broker. ESFL may, at its sole discretion, change any residual margin requirement at any time without prior notice to the Client. If ESFL determines that additional margin, variation adjustment or interest rate cash adjustment is required, the Client agrees to deposit such additional margin, variation adjustment or interest rate cash adjustment with ESFL immediately upon request. All funds provided by the Client as margin must be Deposits of Money or Funds and all securities provided by the Client as margin must be securities of good and unencumbered title owned by the Client. Prior residual margins are not precedent. Changes in the residual margin requirements apply to existing positions in Exchange Contracts and/or Futures/Options Contracts affected by the change, as well as to new positions.
- 4.2 All Margin (whether additional or not) required to be provided or maintained by the Client in accordance with Clause 4.1 and all monies and securities of the Client now or at any time thereafter deposited, transferred or arranged to be transferred to or held by ESFL or any Eddid Financial company shall form part of the Collateral as security for the guaranteed payment and settlement of all liabilities (whether under the Loan Facility or otherwise) to ESFL and the Lenders (b) the continuing security for the Loan Facility.
- 4.3 Without prejudice to Clauses 4.4 to 4.11, the Client must meet or satisfy the Residual Margin Requirement immediately upon demand by ESFL. If any residual margin requirement is not met or satisfied, ESFL may close out the relevant open position. The Client shall, upon request, provide fund or pay for ESFL or arrange for ESFL to be funded or paid in a timely manner to enable ESFL to settle any liabilities incurred or to be incurred by ESFL as a result of the completion of transactions, trading or trading in respect of the Futures Margin Financing Account. The Client shall, upon request, reimburse ESFL for all costs and expenses incurred by it in connection with the completion of transactions, trading or trading in respect of the Futures Margin Financing Account and/or pay or reimburse any outstanding amounts under the Futures Margin Financing Account.
- 4.4 The Client shall monitor the Futures Margin Financing Account so that there is sufficient account balance in the Futures Margin Financing Account at all times to meet such residual margin requirements as may be applicable. ESFL may at any time at its absolute and sole discretion amend such residual margin requirements in respect of open positions or new contracts or positions of the Client. If the Client does not have sufficient account balance to meet such residual margin requirements, ESFL may refuse to execute any instruction or order from the Client and may delay processing any instruction or order while the correct margin position of the Futures Margin Financing Account is being determined. The Client shall at all times maintain sufficient account balance to continue to meet such residual margin requirements without notice or demand from ESFL. The Client must at all times meet any residual margin requirements calculated by ESFL.
- 4.5 ESFL shall not be obliged to notify the Client of any failure to meet such residual margin requirements in the Futures Margin Financing Account until ESFL has exercised its rights, powers, discretions and remedies under this Agreement. The Client understands that ESFL will not generally issue or make calls or demands for payment in respect of residual margin requirements and that ESFL will not generally make credits to the Futures Margin Financing Account to satisfy any deficiency in residual margin requirements and that ESFL is authorized, without prior notice to the Client, to liquidate, clear or settle open positions or open trades in the Futures Margin Financing Account and/or exercise any of its rights under Section 17 of Chapter 7 to meet such residual margin requirements.

- 4.6 If at any time the balance of the Futures Margin Financing Account is zero capital or in deficit, or the Futures Margin Financing Account does not have sufficient account balance to meet such residual margin requirements, then ESFL shall have the right at any time at its sole discretion (but without obligation) without prior demand or reminder to the Client, at any time and in such manner as ESFL may deem necessary, to close out, liquidate or settle all or any part of the Client's position in the Futures Margin Financing Account and/or exercise any of its rights under Clause 17 of Chapter 7 in any form and in any market. The Client agrees to be responsible for and promptly pay to ESFL any deficit incurred in the Futures Margin Financing Account as a result of or after such liquidation, clearing or settlement. Notwithstanding that the Client is subsequently able to re-establish his position at a price less favourable than the Preferential Price or at a price less favourable than the Preferential Price, ESFL shall not be liable to the Client for any loss or damages arising out of such closing, liquidation or settlement (or if ESFL delays closing, liquidation or settlement or does not close, liquidate or settle the position).
- 4.7 The Client expressly waives and relinquishes any right to receive prior notice or demand from ESFL and agrees that any prior demand, notice, announcement or advertisement shall not be deemed a waiver of ESFL's right to close out, liquidate or settle any open positions of the Client or exercise any of its rights under Clause 17 of Chapter 7. The Client understands that in the event that ESFL closes, liquidates or settles an open position, the Client will not have the right or opportunity to determine the open position to be liquidated or the order or manner in which such liquidation, liquidation or settlement is to be effected. ESFL may, at its absolute and sole discretion, decide to close, liquidate or settle a position on any exchange or market and ESFL or its affiliates may take a different position with respect to such closing, liquidating or settling transactions. If ESFL closes, liquidates or settles any or all open positions in a futures margin financing account, such closing, liquidation or settlement will determine to ESFL the amount of the Client's profit or loss and liabilities (if any). The Client shall reimburse ESFL for all actions, omissions, costs, expenses, fees (including but not limited to legal fees) penalties, losses, claims or debts in connection with any such transactions entered into by ESFL and shall hold ESFL harmless from the same. The Client shall be responsible and liable for all reversionary losses in respect of the Client's positions, even if ESFL delays or fails to close, liquidate or settle any open positions. If the Client does not have sufficient funds and ESFL executes an order, ESFL shall be entitled to liquidate the transaction without notice to the Client and the Client shall be liable for any loss including any costs incurred in such liquidation and shall not be entitled to any profit arising from such liquidation.
- 4.8 The Client irrevocably and unconditionally authorizes ESFL to make transfers, debit or deduct any money from the Futures Margin Financing Account and/or accounts for the payment, discharge, satisfaction of the liabilities, debts and Related Indebtedness of ESFL to the Client arising out of, incurred in connection with and relating to this Agreement, including but not limited to the outstanding purchase price, fees, (including but not limited to market information fees) charges, expenses, commissions and interest payable by the Client under this Agreement. The Client acknowledges and agrees that such deductions may affect the amount of money in the Futures Margin Financing Account to the detriment of meeting such residual margin requirements. If the deduction of commissions, fees or other charges results in the Futures Margin Financing Account not having sufficient balance to meet such residual margin requirements, the Client's open positions shall be closed out, cleared or settled as described in these Terms and Conditions and ESFL may exercise any of its rights under Clause 17 of Chapter 7.
- 4.9 In the event that ESFL makes a call on the Client for the outstanding margin requirement, the Client must satisfy such call immediately. The Client agrees to immediately deposit cleared funds in the Futures Margin Financing Account to cover in full any open positions that are not fully margined to satisfy any residual margin requirement of ESFL. Notwithstanding such residual margin requirement, the Client acknowledges that ESFL may, at its sole discretion, close out, liquidate or settle open positions or exercise any of its rights under Clause 17 of Chapter 7 at any time.
- 4.10 ESFL shall also have the right to close out, liquidate or settle all or any part of the Client's open positions or exercise any of its rights under clause 17 of Section 7 without prior notice to the Client in the same manner as provided above without prior notice to the Client: (a) if any dispute arises in relation to any sale or purchase or transaction of the Client; (b) after the Client has failed to discharge in a timely manner his obligations to ESFL; (c) after the Client becomes insolvent or files a petition in bankruptcy or a petition by a creditor for protection; (d) after the appointment of an insolvency representative; or (e) at any time when ESFL in its absolute and sole discretion considers that liquidation, winding up or settlement is necessary or desirable for the protection of ESFL or any Eddid Financial company.

- 4.11 Nothing in these Terms and Conditions (in particular this Clause) shall affect or supersede the obligations, liabilities and debts of the Client under Clause 7 of Chapter 7.

5. Transaction

- 5.1 It is a condition of the grant and continuance of the Credit Facility that the Client shall validly complete, make, carry out and enter into all Transactions for or in respect of the Futures Margin Financing Account and the Futures Margin Financing Account shall be subject to and in accordance with the following:

- (a) The Client shall close out, liquidate or settle all excess open contracts on or before the Cut-Off Time to the extent that the Client is only entitled to rollover or carry over Acceptable Open Contracts to the next trading session;

All rights, powers and discretion of ESFL under this Agreement on or after the occurrence of a Default shall apply to the Remaining excess open contracts and may be exercised by ESFL in all respects in respect of the Remaining excess open contracts;
- (c) In addition to and without prejudice to the rights, powers and discretions of ESFL under Clause 5.1(b) above, ESFL shall have the right and authority of the Client to close out, liquidate and settle any outstanding open positions in accordance with Clause 5.1(b) as follows:
 - i. Close out, liquidate or settle any remaining excess open contracts at any price or price (which may not be the best price or price quoted or quoted or the market price or market price) as determined from time to time by ESFL (in its absolute and subjective discretion). Such closing, liquidation or settlement price or price may deviate from the best price or price or market or market price quoted or posted; and
 - ii. Close out, liquidate or settle the remaining excess open contracts of each Client together with other Clients of ESFL and other open positions of ESFL and their respective affiliates.

- 5.2 In the event that the Client fails or refuses to complete or perform its obligations under this Clause 5.1 and/or ESFL does not exercise its rights and powers under this Clause 5.1:

- (a) A Remaining excess open contract remains an open position or an open trade of the Client. (b) The Client shall be liable and responsible for such remaining excess open contracts; and
- (b) The Client shall not be entitled to rollover or carry forward the remaining excess open contracts to the next trading day.

- 5.3 In this Clause 5:

"Acceptable Open Contract" or "AOC" means the number of open positions that the Client may maintain or keep (or, if that number is not a round number, reduce it to the nearest round number). The number (a) is determined from time to time on the basis of ESFL (at its absolute discretion); or (b) determined and calculated in accordance with the following formula:

The Client agrees to accept the Electronic Transaction Confirmation in lieu of a written confirmation.
- 6.25 The confirmation may be delayed. The Client understands that reports and confirmations of execution or cancellation of instructions may be incorrect for various reasons, including but not limited to cancellation, modification or amendment by the relevant market or clearing house. If the transaction executed by ESFL with the Client results in a loss to the Client, ESFL shall debit the Foreign Exchange Account with the amount of such loss. Such profit or loss shall be determined by ESFL with reference to the criteria set forth in Clause 6.36 and shall be irrevocable.
- 6.35 Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in these Terms and Conditions, neither the Client nor ESFL shall be required to make actual delivery of the foreign exchange agreed to be delivered under the Foreign Exchange Contract on each Valuation Date of the Foreign Exchange Contract or on the closing out of the Foreign Exchange Contract. The Client may take actual delivery of foreign exchange provided that the Client has given written notice to ESFL at least two (2) Business Days prior to the actual delivery date. If the Client requests actual delivery of foreign exchange, he shall be liable to pay such charges as may be prescribed by ESFL from time to time. The Client may close out any open position at any time by closing out the contract (even if the Valuation Date of the foreign exchange contract has passed). Any profits payable to the Client shall be credited to the foreign exchange account and any losses incurred by the Client shall be debited to the foreign exchange account. If the balance of the margin is insufficient to cover any amount to be deducted from the foreign exchange account, the Client undertakes to repay such amount to ESFL immediately on demand together with interest on such amount at such rate as ESFL may in its absolute discretion determine.

- 6.36 ESFL and the Client shall pay to each other interest calculated from and including the Valuation Date to and excluding the date of closing of the relevant Foreign Exchange Contract as follows:
- (a) The Client shall pay interest to ESFL on the outstanding balance in the currency of the amount owed and at the prevailing debit rate in that currency as specified by ESFL from time to time; and
 - (b) Interest shall be payable by ESFL to the Client on the outstanding amount at the currency of the arrears and at the prevailing debit rate in that currency as specified by ESFL from time to time.
 - (c) All interest rates specified above shall accrue on the basis of the actual number of days elapsing over 365 days in a year (in the case of Hong Kong dollars) or 360 days in a year (in the case of currencies other than Hong Kong dollars) and shall be credited or charged monthly to the Foreign Exchange Account. Interest shall accrue from the due date to the actual date of payment on amounts payable under these Terms and Conditions but not yet due at such rate as may be determined from time to time by ESFL.
- 6.37 In the event that ESFL exercises its rights under this Clause 21 and closes all or any open positions in the Account, such close-out shall be effected by ESFL so that the amount of foreign exchange of the closed contracts is sufficient to close out the said open positions and the Client irrevocably appoints ESFL as its agent. ESFL shall exercise its own judgment in determining the price at which to close out foreign exchange contracts. Subject to applicable laws and regulations, ESFL may close out foreign exchange contracts on a single or collective basis at its sole discretion.
- 6.38 For the purpose of adjusting the Client's open positions at market prices from time to time, ESFL shall determine the price of foreign exchange and/or foreign exchange contracts by reference to current quotations provided by reputable financial information services.
- 6.39 The Client agrees that the Client may be affected by a reduction or restriction in the Client's ability to trade open positions in ESFL (as a result of SFC action under applicable rules and regulations or for any other reason), in which case the Client may be required to reduce or close out the Client's open positions with ESFL.

7. Margin & Fund

- 7.1 The Client agrees to provide and maintain in the Foreign Exchange Account amounts, securities, property, collateral, guarantees and other security in such form and amounts and on such terms as ESFL may from time to time determine in its absolute discretion (the "Margin Requirement"). ESFL may at any time and at its discretion change any Margin Requirement without prior notice to the Client. In the event that ESFL considers that additional margin is required, the Client agrees to pay and/or deposit such additional margin with ESFL immediately upon request. All funds provided by the Client as margin must be Deposits of Money or Funds and all securities provided by the Client as margin must be securities of good and unencumbered title owned by the Client. No margin requirement will constitute any precedent. Changes in margin requirements will apply to existing positions and new positions from the date of change. The value of the margin shall be determined at the absolute discretion of ESFL.
- 7.2 Without prejudice to clauses 7.4 to 7.11 herein, the Client must satisfy or fulfill any call or payment request in respect of the Margin Requirement immediately upon demand by ESFL. If the Client fails to meet a margin call, ESFL may close out the position. The Client shall, upon request, fund or make arrangements for the funding of ESFL or for the funding of ESFL so that ESFL may be funded or paid in a timely manner to enable ESFL to settle any liabilities incurred or to be incurred in connection with trading, purchase or sale or exchange of foreign exchange accounts. The Client shall, on demand, reimburse ESFL for all costs and expenses incurred by it in connection with the completion of dealings, trading or transactions in respect of the Foreign Exchange Account and/or pay or settle any amounts outstanding under the Foreign Exchange Account.

- 7.3 No interest shall be payable by ESFL on money or funds paid to or received by ESFL in respect of the Foreign Exchange Account whether for deposit or otherwise as stated. ESFL shall be entitled to retain for its own benefit any interest or other realized income or appreciation earned or received in respect of such money or funds. ESFL shall be entitled at any time to charge, and the Client agrees at any time to pay to ESFL, interest on any deficit or any sum or money otherwise receivable by ESFL at such rate and on such other terms as ESFL may from time to time notify to the Client (or in the absence of such notification, at the rate of eight percent (8%)). Interest shall be payable on the last day of each calendar month or immediately upon demand by ESFL.
- 7.4 The Client shall monitor the Foreign Exchange Account to ensure that there is sufficient account balance in the Foreign Exchange Account at all times to meet margin calls. Where the Client does not have sufficient account balance to meet a margin requirement, ESFL may refuse to execute any instruction or order from the Client and ESFL may delay processing any instruction or order while it determines the correct margin status of the margin account. The Client shall at all times maintain a sufficient account balance to continue to meet margin requirements without notice or demand from ESFL. The Client must at all times honour any margin requirements calculated by ESFL.
- 7.5 ESFL shall not be obliged to notify the Client of any failure by the Client to meet a margin requirement until ESFL has exercised its rights, powers, discretion and remedies under this Agreement. The Client understood and accepted that ESFL will not normally make calls or demands for payment in respect of margin requirements and that ESFL will not normally credit the Foreign Exchange Account to meet any shortfall in margin requirements and that ESFL is authorized to exercise its right to close out, compulsorily close or settle the Foreign Exchange Account and/or any of its rights under this Clause 21 to satisfy margin requirements without prior notice to the Client.
- 7.6 Without prejudice to this provision, if it is not practicable in the sole discretionary opinion of ESFL to require additional margin, this is not practicable on the basis of a change, including but not limited to, in the future:
- (a) Such change is a change in the local, international or international financial, fiscal, economic or political environment or foreign exchange controls which would result in, or would appear to ESFL to result in, significant or negative volatility in the foreign exchange, equity, currency, commodity or futures markets in Hong Kong and/or overseas; or
 - (b) Such change is or may be material and negative in nature and affects the circumstances or operations of the Client.
 - (c) ESFL will be deemed to have called the margin and ESFL may determine the form and/or the silver code and this margin will become immediately due and payable by the Client.
- 7.7 If at any time the balance of the Foreign Exchange Account is zero capital or has a deficit, or if the Foreign Exchange Account does not have sufficient account balance to meet margin requirements, then ESFL shall be entitled at any time at its sole discretion (but without obligation) to close out, force close out or settle all or part of the Client's open positions in the Foreign Exchange Account by any means or in any market and/or to exercise any of its rights under this Clause 21 at any time without prior demand or call to the Client, as ESFL may deem necessary. The Client agrees to be responsible for and to pay immediately to ESFL any shortfall in the FX Account arising from the exercise of his rights on this occasion or outstanding. ESFL shall not be liable to the Client for any loss or compensation suffered by the Client as a result of the exercise of the Client's right to close, force close or settle or exercise (or if ESFL is delayed in exercising, or does not exercise, such right), to the extent that the Client is subsequently able to re-open his position at a less favourable price.
- 7.8 The Client's express waiver of any right to receive prior notice or demand from ESFL and his consent to any prior demand, notice, announcement or advertisement shall not be deemed to be a waiver by ESFL of any of its rights to close, liquidate or settle its positions or to exercise any of its rights under Clause 21. The Client understands that the Client shall not have the right and opportunity to determine the manner in which ESFL shall exercise such rights should ESFL exercise such rights. ESFL may exercise such rights on any exchange or market at its absolute and sole discretion and ESFL or its affiliates may take a different position with respect to the closing, clearing or settlement of such transactions. If ESFL exercises such rights, the exercise of such rights will determine the Client's profit or loss and the amount of debt (if any) owed to ESFL. The Client shall reimburse ESFL for all actions, omissions, costs, expenses, fees (including but not limited to attorney's fees) penalties, losses, claims or debts in connection with the exercise of such rights by ESFL and shall hold ESFL harmless from the same. The Client shall be responsible and liable for all consequences of loss, even if ESFL is delayed or fails to exercise its rights in respect thereof. If ESFL executes an order (for which the Client does not have sufficient funds), ESFL shall be entitled to liquidate such transaction without notice to the Client and the Client shall be liable for any loss, including any costs, arising from such liquidation and shall not be entitled to any profit arising from such liquidation.

- 7.9 ESFL is irrevocably and unconditionally authorized to make transfers or deductions from the Foreign Exchange Account and/or Account for the purpose of paying, discharging, and satisfying the liabilities, debts, and obligations of Client to ESFL arising out of, incurred in connection with, and relating to this Agreement and/or the Loan Agreement, including but not limited to the outstanding purchase price, fees (including but not limited to market data fees), charges, expenses, commissions, and interest payable by Client under this Agreement and/or the Loan Agreement. The Client acknowledges and agrees that such deductions may affect the amount of money in the Foreign Exchange Account (which will be used to meet margin requirements). If the deduction of commissions, fees or other charges results in an insufficient balance in the Foreign Exchange Account to meet margin requirements, then ESFL may exercise any of its rights to close out, liquidate or settle positions and ESFL may exercise any of its rights under this Clause 21.
- 7.10 In the event that ESFL makes a call or payment request to the Client in respect of a Margin Requirement, the Client shall immediately satisfy with such call and demand. The Client agrees to immediately deposit cleared funds in a foreign exchange account to cover in full any open positions which are not covered by margin in order to satisfy any call or demand made by ESFL in respect of margin requirements. Notwithstanding any such demand or call, the Client acknowledges that ESFL may, at its sole discretion, at any time close out, liquidate or settle the Client's open positions or exercise any of its rights under this Clause 21.
- 7.11 ESFL shall also be entitled to exercise any of its rights to close out, liquidate or settle or any of its rights under this Clause 21 in the same manner as aforesaid without prior notice to the Client: (a) if any dispute arises in respect of any Client's delivery or transaction; (b) in the event of the Client failing to settle in a timely manner its liabilities due to ESFL; (c) Upon the insolvency of the Client or the filing of a petition in bankruptcy or a petition for the protection of creditors; (d) upon the appointment of an insolvency representative; or (e) whenever ESFL in its absolute and sole discretion deems it necessary or desirable to protect ESFL and/or any Eddid Financial company.

8. Deposit of Money or Funds

- 8.1 The Client shall pay such sums or funds to ESFL in person or deposit such sums or funds directly into a bank account designated by ESFL. ESFL may, at its absolute and sole discretion, refuse to accept deposits of money or funds from any person other than the Client and its authorized persons ("Third Party").
- 8.2 ESFL does not accept cheques drawn on third parties for the deposit of money or funds. Only ESFL may, at its absolute discretion, accept the transfer of cleared funds from a Third Party to an account designated by it as a deposit on behalf of the Client.
- 8.3 The Client or the Third Party (as the case may be) shall, immediately after depositing funds with ESFL, fax to ESFL during business hours on the date of deposit a deposit slip and/or other documentary evidence (bearing the Client's name, foreign exchange account number and signature) from time to time acceptable to ESFL in respect of such deposited funds ("Evidence of Payment") or deliver to ESFL in person as Evidence of Payment. The Client acknowledges and understands that funds deposited with ESFL (whether by the Client or a third party) may not be credited to the Client's foreign exchange account or reflected in any account statement until ESFL is notified thereof.
- 8.4 The Client acknowledges and understands that it is the responsibility of the Client or the third party (as the case may be) to hold evidence of payment until such evidence is provided to ESFL. ESFL shall not be responsible or liable to the Client for any loss incurred by or in connection with the Client's or a third party's (as the case may be) failure to provide evidence of payment to ESFL in a timely or punctual manner or the use of evidence of payment by any person other than the Client or by any person other than a third party (whether or not with the Client's instructions or consent).

- 8.5 The Client will retain the original evidence of payment for at least one (1) month from the date of deposit. Account statements will be sent to the Client for record and verification as soon as possible after the deposit has been made by ESFL. If the Client does not receive the account statement after the deposit has been made, the Client shall inform ESFL immediately.
- 8.6 The Client acknowledges, understands and accepts the risk of depositing the relevant money or funds via the Internet into the designated bank account of ESFL for the purpose of trading foreign exchange and/or foreign exchange contracts or settling transactions ("Online Deposit"). If the Client chooses to deposit money or funds in this way, the Client fully accepts the risks involved and agrees to assume such risks and all liabilities arising therefrom, including but not limited to those risks and liabilities as follows:
- (a) The Client shall ensure that all relevant procedures, processes, information, designated account number, bill payment number, personal identification number, the amount deposited and the information relating to the deposit of money or funds to ESFL have been thoroughly checked and verified to be true, correct and accurate before giving the relevant instruction for online deposit. Once an online deposit instruction has been given in any manner, such instruction may not be amended, revoked, deleted or cancelled without the written consent of ESFL and shall be absolutely and conclusively valid and effective against ESFL and shall be absolutely and conclusively binding on the Client. The Client acknowledges that ESFL shall not be liable in any event of losses, costs, charges, expenses arising out of or in connection with an online deposit, even if there has been an error or misunderstanding at the time of giving such instructions;
 - (b) ESFL shall be entitled to treat instructions for online deposits as fully authorized by the Client and binding on the Client. (ii) ESFL shall be entitled to rely and act on such instructions without reference to or verification of the authority or identity of the person giving or giving such instructions and without regard to the circumstances prevailing at the time such instructions are given, notwithstanding any error, misleading element, ambiguity, fraud, forgery or lack of authority therein;
 - (c) The Client agrees and accepts that if an online deposit instruction is received by ESFL after its daily cut-off time, such instruction will be deemed to be received by ESFL on the next Business Day, subject to ESFL's absolute discretion. In no event shall ESFL be liable to the Client (including liability for negligence) for any loss, damages, expenses or any loss of profit suffered and/or incurred by the Client arising out of or in connection with (directly or indirectly) the above arrangement; and
 - (d) The Client fully understands and agrees that any instructions given in relation to the Online Deposit may be interrupted, delayed or not transmitted due to communication network failure, system failure, interruption of the device or software or other circumstances. The Client agrees to bear all risks arising therefrom and shall be solely liable for any loss, damages, expenses or any loss of profit suffered and/or incurred by the Client arising out of or in connection with the Online Deposit (directly or indirectly).
- 8.7 Any monies or funds deposited in the Foreign Exchange Account shall be cleared and received by ESFL before it is available for use or application.
- 8.8 If the Client fails to comply with any part of this Clause 8, the Client shall be fully liable for all liabilities in connection with the deposit and shall indemnify ESFL in full against all costs, claims, liabilities and expenses incurred directly or indirectly in connection therewith.

9. Settlement Account

- 9.1 ESFL is authorized to transfer all sums or funds payable to the Client under this Agreement to the Settlement Account. The transfer of all sums or funds payable as aforesaid to the Settlement Account or the payment of such sums or funds in accordance with the instructions of the Client or the Authorized Person shall be and be deemed to be a good and valid discharge of the liability to pay the same to the Client thereunder.

10. Settlement and Netting of Transactions

- 10.1 Whenever the Parties enter into a contract with settlement and/or payment obligations for foreign exchange which are opposite to their existing foreign exchange contract obligations for the same type of foreign exchange of the same settlement date between the Parties, the Client may instruct that these new and existing foreign exchange contracts be offset against each other, cancelled individually or simultaneously on an ongoing account basis by replacing the old foreign exchange contract with the following settlement and/or payment obligations for the new foreign exchange contracts:
- (a) In respect of each type of foreign exchange, a comparison shall be made between the quantities which each party would have delivered under the cancelled foreign exchange contract and the party with the greater obligation in respect of that type of foreign exchange has a new obligation to deliver foreign exchange to the other party on the Settlement Date in a quantity equal to the difference in the quantities which would otherwise have been required to be delivered by both parties under the cancelled foreign exchange contract;
 - (b) In respect of each type of foreign exchange, a comparison shall be made between the amounts payable by each party under the cancelled foreign exchange contract and each party with the greater liability in respect of such foreign exchange shall have a new obligation to pay to the other party on the balance sheet date an amount equal to the difference between the amounts otherwise payable by the parties under the cancelled foreign exchange contract; and
 - (c) The foreign exchange contract resulting from this process shall be deemed to be a foreign exchange contract under this Agreement.
- 10.2 Unless otherwise agreed and set out in the Confirmation, these Clauses 10.1 to 10.3 shall apply, notwithstanding that ESFL may:
- (a) Fail to send a confirmation of the Net Transaction; or
 - (b) Treat foreign exchange contracts not otherwise agreed and specified in the accounts as canceled and simultaneously replace old contracts with new ones; or
 - (c) Send a Net Transaction Confirmation which misstates the terms of any foreign exchange contract.
- 10.3 Notwithstanding the following or any other implication, if requested in writing by the Client, ESFL may, in its absolute discretion, agree that there may not be a net transaction in any foreign exchange contract between the parties.

11. Payment

- 11.1 All payments of foreign exchange for settlement elsewhere will be made in United States dollars (U.S. dollars) in immediately available funds unless ESFL agrees and the original or amended confirmation so states. The Client's liability will not be relieved by the use of other currencies or other places of payment than those specified by ESFL. If the Client makes any payment in another currency which, upon conversion to U.S. dollars, does not equal the amount due in U.S. dollars, then ESFL has a separate cause of action against the Client for the balance owed to ESFL.

12. Credit Facilities

- 12.1 If ESFL does not approve credit facilities for the settlement of foreign exchange, or if the settlement of foreign exchange under any contract would exceed the amount of the credit facility, the parties will enter into a contract with the following provisions:
- (a) Each foreign exchange contract will be settled on the settlement date, provided that each subsequent foreign exchange contract and any net contract entered into in respect of the original foreign exchange contract will remain open until after the original settlement date until such time as ESFL agrees to take delivery of such foreign exchange contract or net contract; and

- (b) After such Foreign Exchange Contract or Net Contract has remained open until the Original Settlement Date, ESFL may, in its absolute discretion, require the Foreign Exchange Account to pay interest for such period and at such rate per annum as ESFL may from time to time irrevocably determine, in which case ESFL will deduct such interest from the Foreign Exchange Account at least monthly.

13. Taxes

- 13.1 The Client hereby authorizes ESFL or ESFL Trading Agent to take and do all actions necessary to comply with the applicable rules, regulations and laws of Hong Kong and/or overseas jurisdictions (as the case may be) in relation to taxes, duties, levies and charges in connection with any transaction and/or foreign exchange purchased or held by the Client, including the filing of returns, forms and/or other documents as may be required by the relevant authorities or departments of Hong Kong and/or overseas jurisdictions; Withholding and/or payment of taxes, duties, levies and charges incurred by or in connection with the transaction and the foreign exchange purchased or held by the Client. The Client acknowledges that ESFL will withhold and/or deduct the amount of such payment from any account.
- 13.2 The Client shall, at his own expense, provide to ESFL and/or ESFL Agent all documents and/or information necessary to ESFL and/or ESFL Agent to take or perform the actions specified in Clause 13.1 and to execute returns, forms and/or other documents as may be required by the relevant authorities or departments in Hong Kong and/or overseas jurisdictions (as the case may be) upon request by ESFL.
- 13.3 The Client acknowledges and accepts that neither ESFL nor ESFL Agent shall be responsible for advising and reminding the Client of the due date for payment of taxes, duties, levies or charges and/or giving any advice in respect of taxes, duties, levies or charges payable by him. The Client further agrees that ESFL and ESFL Trading Agent shall not be liable for any penalties or charges imposed on the Client in respect of any delay in payment of taxes, duties, levies or charges arising out of or in connection with the Client's default or negligence. The Client shall indemnify and keep ESFL and ESFL fully indemnified against all reasonable costs and expenses which may reasonably be incurred by ESFL and ESFL as a result of the necessary arrangements made by the Client in connection with any delay in payment.
- 13.4 If, at any time, in the opinion of ESFL, under any foreign laws and regulations, including, but not limited to, the Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act, the U.S. Internal Revenue Code, the U.S. Treasury regulations, or related guidance issued under such laws and regulations, any related governmental agreements, any similar or related non-U.S. laws, or any contract, commitment, obligation or any policy or instruction (whether or not having the force of law) signed or undertaken or customarily followed by and between ESFL and any international, intergovernmental, quasi-governmental, regulatory, administrative, law-enforcing or supervisory agency, unit, department, office, or agency, agent, exchange, clearing house, banking commission, taxing authority or any other authority, body, unit, department, office or other body in the place of jurisdiction, or any court or tribunal of competent jurisdiction (each an "Authority"), (such foreign laws, regulations, agreements, undertakings, obligations, policies or instructions are collectively referred to as "Applicable Laws"), when the Client's position under or arising out of U.S. tax laws and rules may require a credit or deduction from the Client's account for the relevant tax, ESFL is entitled and hereby expressly authorized by the Client to deduct or withhold the relevant tax from amounts payable by ESFL to the Client ("Authorized Deduction or Withholding"), to pay the Client the balance after the deduction or withholding, and to deliver the authorized deduction or withholding to any authority, including the Internal Revenue Service ("IRS") or other authority or any representative thereof. If the Client is required to make an Authorized Deduction or Withholding under applicable law, the Client shall promptly pay additional amounts to ESFL so that the net amount received by ESFL will not be reduced as a result of the Authorized Deduction or Withholding.
- 13.5 The Client agrees and expressly consents that ESFL may collect, store, use, process, disclose, provide, divulge and report to the IRS, any agency or any other person information, documents and records that ESFL believes may be necessary, available or helpful to ESFL in complying with applicable law or fulfilling ESFL's obligations under applicable law based on the U.S. tax status of the Client or any of the Client's beneficiaries and records (including any information, documents and records relating to the account and any transactions or business dealings with the Client and the personal information, documents and records of any direct or indirect beneficiary or account controller of the Client).

- 13.6 The Client agrees to provide, as soon as practicable after receipt of a request from ESFL:
- (a) Any documents or information regarding the identity and tax status of the Client and any direct or indirect beneficiary, beneficiary or controller of the Client (including IRS Forms W-9, W-8BEN and W-8IMY or any other forms prescribed by the IRS or other authorities from time to time);
 - (b) Any documents or information relating to the direct or indirect owner or holder of a Client's account, or relating to products, services, assistance or funding provided by ESFL to the Client from time to time; and
 - (c) Any written consent or waiver of applicable personal data protection laws or other laws or regulations issued by the direct or indirect beneficiary of the Client in a form agreed or approved by ESFL for the purpose of permitting ESFL to enforce the provisions of Clause 13.5.
- 13.7 The Client agrees to notify ESFL promptly of any further changes or inaccuracies in the above information (including the information referred to in the above documents and forms) and to provide ESFL with updated documents, forms or information.
- 13.8 In the event that the Client fails to provide ESFL with the information, documents, forms, consents or waivers referred to in Clauses 13.6 and 13.7 above at the appropriate time and in the exact circumstances, ESFL shall be entitled to take such action as it sees fit in the light of the status of any account or the goods, services, assistance or support provided by ESFL to the Client from time to time and the decision of ESFL shall be final and binding on the Client.
- 13.9 ESFL may terminate an account at any time without notice or reason if, in its opinion, the continued retention of such account is unlawful, illegal or prohibited by applicable law or subject to economic or trade sanctions by any authority. In such event, ESFL shall have the right to withhold any credit balance in the Account (less any Authorized Deduction or Withholding) and to deposit such credit balance in a non-interest bearing inventory suspense account pending withdrawal by the Client.
- 13.10 The Client hereby unconditionally and absolutely waives and releases ESFL from any liability, claim, demand arising out of any right or action taken by it in good faith under this clause. Without prejudice to the indemnity of any other guarantees provided by the Client to ESFL under this Agreement or any other agreement with ESFL, the Client further agrees to indemnify ESFL against any liabilities, claims, demands, losses, costs, charges and expenses of any kind incurred by ESFL as a result of misleading information, documents or records provided by the Client in order to bring ESFL into compliance with applicable law.

14. Charges and Expense

- 14.1 The Client shall from time to time pay to ESFL, its nominee or ESFL's trading agent such commissions, fees, brokerage or other remuneration as ESFL may in its absolute discretion determine in respect of all transactions and after all payments have been made to the Client, and all applicable levies and all applicable stamp duties imposed by any relevant clearing system or market. All such commissions, fees, levies and taxes may be deducted by ESFL from the foreign exchange account and any other account held by the Client within any Eddid Financial company.
- 14.2 Without prejudice to the right of ESFL to terminate the FX Account under Clause 31, ESFL may charge a monthly maintenance fee (which will be notified to the Client by ESFL) for the Client's inactive account if the Client has not traded for six months or more. Such fees, if any, will be automatically deducted from the FX account or any other account held by the Client with any Eddid Financial company.
- 14.3 The Client shall be liable, on a fully indemnified basis, for all charges and expenses of any brokers, agents and nominees (including nominees appointed by ESFL for the FX Account), applicable levies and/or fees imposed by any relevant clearing system or market, and all transfer fees, registration fees, stock settlement fees, interest and other charges or expenses incurred in connection with or relating to the Transaction, the FX Account or any securities or monies receivable in or for the FX Account, the services provided to the Client or otherwise.

- 14.4 ESFL may, at its option, withdraw funds from any Eddid Financial company's Client account to cover any amounts payable to ESFL under this Agreement.
- 14.5 The Client agrees and authorizes ESFL to accept any rebate or re-subsidy or non-payment commission as permitted by the rules of any broker and dealer who buys or sells or otherwise disposes of foreign exchange for the Client and/or any market and clearing system applicable to the conduct and settlement of the Transaction, provided that:
- (a) ESFL and/or its nominee may enter into a non-payment commission arrangement with a broker (through which a transaction is executed for a Client). ESFL and/or its nominee will only enter into such an arrangement if it is clear that the goods or services are beneficial to the Client of ESFL and/or its nominee (as applicable). In allocating business to such brokers, it is the responsibility of ESFL and/or its nominee to ensure that the quality of transactions executed is consistent with best execution criteria and that brokerage fees do not exceed the customary full service fees. For this purpose, such goods and services may include: research and advisory services; Economic and political analysis; portfolio analysis, including valuation and performance calculations; market analysis, information and quotation services; computer hardware and software in connection with the above goods and services; Clearing and custodian services, and investment-related publications; and
 - (b) ESFL and/or its nominees may receive cash or monetary rebates on transactions executed for the Clients. Such commissions will be retained by ESFL and/or its nominee for their own account absolutely without prior disclosure to the Client. In the event that ESFL and/or its nominee retains such rebates, it is their responsibility to ensure that brokerage fee does not exceed the customary full service fee.

15. Foreign Currency Transactions

- 15.1 If the Client instructs ESFL to carry out any transaction which requires conversion from one currency to another, then:
- (a) The cost and any profit or loss arising from fluctuations in the exchange rate of the relevant currency shall be borne by the Client and the Client shall bear the risk thereof;
 - (b) All sums first deposited and thereafter deposited in respect of margin requirements shall be paid in such currency and in such amounts as may be required by ESFL at its discretion; and
 - (c) When an open foreign exchange contract is closed out, ESFL shall credit or debit the amount in the foreign exchange account in such currency as ESFL may at its discretion determine and at such rate of exchange as ESFL may at its discretion determine.
- 15.2 The Client authorizes ESFL to convert at any time from or to any currency at such rate of exchange and at such conversion amount as ESFL may deem appropriate, which rate of exchange shall be the prevailing market rate at the time in its sole discretion. ESFL may make such conversions in connection with any transaction or for the purpose of calculating the balance of any debt payable by or to the credit of the Client.
- 15.3 The Client authorizes ESFL to debit any account to cover any expenses incurred in effecting any currency conversion.
- 15.4 All payments made by the Client to ESFL in foreign currencies shall be freely transferable and immediately available and shall not be subject to any tax, charge or payment of any nature whatsoever at the time of receipt by ESFL.
- 15.5 ESFL reserves the right to refuse to accept any instruction from the Client in respect of any currency conversion at any time.

16. Client's Money

- 16.1 ESFL shall be entitled to hold all money or funds in foreign exchange accounts and all monies received for the Client in one or more accounts with one or more licensed banks. Any interest accrued on such money or funds shall, unless otherwise agreed between the Client and ESFL, belong exclusively to ESFL. The Client hereby expressly waives any and all rights, claims and entitlements attaching to such interest.
- 16.2 In respect of transactions executed in overseas jurisdictions, the Client hereby authorizes and instructs ESFL to pay all amounts received by ESFL from time to time for and on behalf of the Client from such transactions into any trust account maintained by ESFL with any financial institution (which may or may not be a licensed bank), even though such amounts may be reinvested for or on behalf of the Client.

17. FX and other properties in the Account

- 17.1 Foreign exchange and other property held by ESFL on behalf of the Client will be at the Client's risk and ESFL will not be obliged to take out insurance against such risk and such liability will be the Client's Responsibilities.
- 17.2 If any securities or other property held with ESFL is not registered in the name of the Client and ESFL incurs a loss, such account may be subject to a pro-rata deduction equal to the portion of the securities or other property held on behalf of the Client.

18. Disclosure

- 18.1 The Client shall provide financial or other information about the Client to ESFL immediately upon request (which may be required by ESFL at its absolute discretion and without giving any reason).
- 18.2 The Client acknowledges that market rules may contain provisions requiring ESFL to disclose names, the identity of the Client's beneficiaries and other information about the Client in response to market requests or in certain circumstances in order for ESFL to comply with the rules and regulations of the market. The Client agrees that if ESFL fails to comply with such disclosure requirements, the institution may be required to close out the position on behalf of the Client or to add additional charges to the margin amount.
- 18.3 ESFL and the Client hereby agree that this Agreement shall continue in force notwithstanding termination.

19. Liens

- 19.1 Without prejudice to any general lien, right of set-off or other similar powers available to ESFL under law, the Client agrees, accepts and represents that:

Chapter 10 Risk Disclosure Statement

Risks of Initial Public Offerings and Placing

Fluctuations in exchange rates will affect Clients' profits or incur losses if funds from an IPO and/or placing are converted from one currency to another.

Risks of Trading in Securities

The price of securities can be very volatile at times. The price of securities can go up or down, or even become worthless. Trading in securities may not always result in a profit, but may result in a loss.

Exchange Rate Risks Associated with Public Offerings and Placings

If the offered securities (as defined in Chapter 2) are denominated in foreign currencies (as defined in Chapter 2) or in both Hong Kong dollars and foreign currencies, investors are exposed to exchange rate risk and may suffer losses as a result of fluctuation in exchange rate.

Risks of Futures and Options Trading

The risk of loss in trading futures contracts or options can be substantial. In some cases, you may sustain losses in excess of the initial margin deposit. Even if you have set up contingent order, such as a "stop-loss" or "price-limit" order, you may not be able to avoid losses. Market conditions may make it impossible to execute such orders. You may be required to deposit additional margin within a short period of time. If the required amount is not provided within the specified time frame, your open positions may be closed out. However, you will still be liable for any resulting shortfall in your account. Therefore, you should research and understand futures contracts and options before trading and carefully consider whether such trading is appropriate for you in light of your financial situation and investment objectives. If you trade options, you should familiarize yourself with the procedures for exercising options and options expiration, and your rights and obligations upon exercise of options and options expiration.

This statement does not cover all the risks and other important aspects of trading in futures and options. In terms of risk, you should fully understand the nature of the contract to be entered into (and the related contractual relationship) and the level of risk you are assuming in connection with it before entering into any such transaction. Futures and options trading is not suitable for many public investors and you should carefully weigh against your experience, objectives, financial resources and other relevant criteria to determine whether you are suitable to participate in such trading.

You should check with the licensee or registrar for the terms and conditions of the relevant futures or options contract in which you are trading and your obligations (such as the circumstances under which you would be obliged to take delivery of the underlying assets of a futures contract or, in the case of options, the expiration date and time limits on the exercise of the option). An exchange or clearing house may, in certain circumstances, modify the terms of an outstanding contract (including the exercise price of the option) to reflect changes in the underlying asset of the contract.

Market conditions (such as insufficient market liquidity) and/or the imposition of certain market rules (such as the suspension of trading in any contract or contract month due to price limits or "trading halt" measures) can increase the risk of loss due to difficulties or impossible to execute trades or close/offset orders. Your risk of loss may increase if you sell options and then encounter such a situation.

The normal price relationship between the underlying asset and the futures and between the underlying asset and the option may not exist. This may occur, for example, when the futures contract to which the option relates is subject to price restrictions, while the option is not subject to price restrictions. In the absence of a reference price for the underlying asset, it is difficult to determine a "Fair Price".

You should be aware of the protections available to you for depositing money or other property deposited in connection with transactions carried out locally or overseas, particularly in the event of bankruptcy or insolvency of the firm. The amount of money or property that can be recovered may be limited by individual legislation or local rules. In some jurisdictions, if there is a shortfall in the amount of money or property recovered, it may be assumed that the property belonging to you will be distributed to you on a pro rata basis as if it were cash.

You should be aware of all commissions, fees or other charges that you will have to pay before you start trading. These fees will directly affect your net profit (if any) or increase your loss.

Trading in markets in other jurisdictions (including markets formally linked to the local market) may expose you to additional risk. Regulations in the relevant markets may vary or reduce the level of protection available to investors. Before entering into a transaction, you should check all the rules governing the transaction to be entered into. Your local regulator cannot compel the regulator or market in the jurisdiction where you have executed the transaction to enforce the rules. You should check with the firm for details of the remedies available in your home jurisdiction and other jurisdictions before proceeding with the transaction.

Profits or losses incurred from the purchase or sale of contracts denominated in foreign currencies (whether or not the transaction takes place in your own jurisdiction or elsewhere) will be affected by exchange rate fluctuations when it is necessary to convert the unit currency of the contract into another currency.

Electronic trading facilities use calculators to form systems for the transmission, execution, matching, registration or settlement of transactions. However, all facilities and systems are subject to temporary interruptions or failures. Your compensation may be subject to limitations imposed by the system provider, the market, the clearing house and/or the licensee or registrar with respect to its obligations. As these liability limits may vary, you should check with the licensee or registrar for details.

Trading through one electronic trading system may be different from trading through other electronic trading systems. If you trade through a particular electronic trading system, you bear the risks associated with that system, including the risk that the hardware or software may not work. A system failure may result in a licensee's or registrant's orders not being executed in accordance with instructions or not being executed at all.

In certain jurisdictions and only under certain circumstances, a licensee or registered person is permitted to execute off-market transactions. The licensee or registered person may be the counterparty to the transaction that you are trading. In such circumstances, it may be difficult or even impossible to close out existing positions, assess value, determine fair prices or assess risk. As a result, these transactions may involve greater risk. OTC transactions may be less regulated or may be subject to a different regulatory regime; You should understand the applicable rules and associated risks before entering into such transactions.

In relation to futures:

(a) The "leverage" effect

Futures trading is very risky. The amount of margin used to open a position in futures is relatively low compared to the value of the futures contract itself, and therefore provides "leverage" in futures trading. Small fluctuations in the market can have a large impact on the amount of money you have invested or will need to invest, which may or may not work in your favour. You may lose your entire opening margin and deposit additional amounts with the firm in order to maintain your position. If market conditions are unfavourable or margin levels increase, you will be subject to margin calls, which means that you will have to deposit additional funds within a short period of time to maintain your position. If you fail to pay the additional funds within the specified time frame, you may be forced to close out your position at a loss and you will be liable for any resulting shortfall.

(b) Risk-reducing orders or investment strategies

The use of certain orders designed to pre-determine loss limits (such as "stop-loss" or "price-limit" orders) may not be very useful as market conditions may make these orders impossible to execute. Strategies using different combinations of positions, such as 'cross-period' and 'straddle' combinations, may also involve as much as risk taking the most basic 'long' or 'short' positions.

In relation to options:

Different levels of risk

- i. Options trading can be very risky. Whether buying or selling options, investors should first understand the type of option they intend to trade (i.e. a put or call option) and the associated risks. You should take into account the premium and all transaction costs and then calculate how much the option value must increase to make a profit.
- ii. An investor who purchases an option can choose to offset or exercise the option or let the option expire. If the option holder chooses to exercise the option, cash settlement or the purchase or delivery of the underlying asset is required. If an option is purchased on a futures product, the option holder will receive a futures position with an associated margin liability (see the section "Futures" above). If the option purchased has no value at expiry, you will lose the entire amount invested, including all premiums and transaction costs. If you wish to purchase out-of-the-money options, you should be aware that the chances of making a profit from such options are minimal.

- iii. The risk of selling ("selling" or "granting") options is usually greater than the risk of buying options. Although the amount of option premium received by the seller for the option is fixed, the seller may suffer losses in excess of this amount. If market conditions are unfavourable to the seller, the seller will be required to pay additional margin to cover the position. The seller may also be exposed to the risk of the buyer exercising the option, in which case the seller will be obliged to settle the option in cash or to purchase or deliver the interest. If the option is a futures contract, the seller will obtain a futures contract with related margin obligations (see Futures section above). The risk may be reduced if the seller "covered" his option by holding a corresponding position in the interest or futures contract or another option. If the option is not covered, the risk of loss may be unlimited.
- iv. Exchanges in certain jurisdictions allow option buyers to defer payment of premiums so that the buyer's obligation to pay margin charges does not exceed the premium. Nonetheless, the buyer is ultimately exposed to the risk of losing the option premium and transaction costs. When an option is exercised or expires, the buyer is required to pay the outstanding premium.

Risks of Leveraged Foreign Exchange Trading

The risk of loss in leveraged foreign exchange trading can be significant. You may sustain losses in excess of your initial margin amount. Even if you place contingent orders, such as "stop-loss" or "price-limit" orders, you may not be able to limit your losses to the amount you originally intended. Market conditions may make it impossible to execute these orders. You may be required to deposit additional margin funds at short notice. If you fail to provide the required amount within the time frame, your open positions may be closed. You will be responsible for any deficit in your account. Therefore, you should carefully consider whether such trading is suitable for you in view of your financial situation and investment objectives.

Risks of Trading GEM Shares

GEM stocks involve a high investment risk. In particular, companies may be listed on GEM without the need for a track record of profitability and without the need to forecast future profitability. GEM stocks may be highly volatile and low liquidity.

You should only make the relevant investment decision after due and careful consideration. The higher risk profile and other characteristics of the GEM market mean that it is a market more suited to professional and other sophisticated investors.

Information on GEM stocks is currently only available on the internet website operated by The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited. GEM listed companies are not generally required to issue paid announcements in gazetted newspapers.

If you are uncertain about the contents of this risk disclosure statement or the nature of the GEM market and the risks associated with the trading of shares on GEM, you should seek independent professional advice.

Risks involved in dealing in CBBCs

(a) Mandatory Call

CBBCs are not suitable for all investors and investors should consider how much risk they can take before trading CBBCs. In any case, investors should not trade CBBCs unless they clearly understand the nature of the CBBC and are prepared to lose all of their investment at any time, because if the price of underlying asset of the CBBC hits the cakk price, the CBBC will be immediately called by the issuer and trading will be terminated..In the case of Category R CBBCs, the holder may be able to recover a small residual value, but in the worst case scenario, there may be no residual value at all. A service fee may be charged by the broker recovers the residual value from the issuer on behalf of his Client.

Generally speaking, the greater the difference between the call price and the current price of the underlying asset, the lower the chance of a CBBC being called, as it would take a large movement in the price of the underlying asset to hit the call price. But at the same time, the greater the difference between the call price and the current price, the less leveraged the CBBC will be. When a CBBC is called, even if the price of the underlying asset rebounds, the CBBC will not be re-traded in the market, so investors will not benefit from the price rebound. In the case of CBBCs issued on overseas assets, mandatory call events may occur outside of HKEx trading hours.

(b) Leverage

As CBBCs are leveraged products, the price of CBBCs will have a higher proportional movement than the underlying asset. If the price of the underlying asset moves in the opposite direction to what investors originally expected, investors may have to suffer proportionately greater losses.

(c) Limited expiry date

CBBCs have a fixed expiry date and expire on a specified date. The validity period can range from 3 months to 5 years. If a CBBC is called before expiry, the validity period will become shorter. The value of a CBBC will fluctuate with movements of the price of the underlying asset during the period and may become worthless upon expiry or early call.

(d) Movement of the underlying asset

Although the price movement of CBBCs tends to follow closely the price movement of the underlying asset, in some cases it may not keep pace with the price movement of the underlying asset (i.e. the hedge value may not be equal to one). The price of a CBBC is affected by a number of factors, including its own supply and demand, finance charges and time to expiry. In addition, the hedge value of individual CBBCs will not always be close to one, especially when the price of the underlying asset is close to the call price.

(e) Liquidity

Although CBBCs have a liquidity provider, there is no guarantee that investors can buy/sell CBBCs at their target price at any time.

(f) Finance Charges

CBBCs are issued with a finance charge for the entire life of the CBBC included in the issue price, and although the life of the CBBC will be shortened when it is called, the holder will still lose the entire finance charge. Investors should be aware that the finance charge may change after the launch of a CBBC and liquidity providers may not quote a price based on the theoretical value of the finance charge at the time of the launch of CBBC.

(g) Trading close to the call price

CBBCs may become more volatile, with wider spreads and lower liquidity as the underlying asset price approaches the call price. CBBCs may be called at any time and trading may be terminated.

There may be some time lag between the occurrence of a mandatory call event and the cessation of trading in CBBCs. Some trades are concluded and confirmed by exchange participants after the occurrence of a mandatory call event, but any trades executed after the mandatory call event will not be recognized and will be cancelled. Investors should therefore exercise extra cautious when trading CBBCs close to the call price.

The issuer will notify the market of the exact call time within 60 minutes of the occurrence of a mandatory call event and the Exchange will disseminate information on trades executed after the occurrence of a mandatory call event to the relevant Exchange Participants for them to notify their Clients. Investors should consult their brokers if they are unsure whether a trade was entered into or cancelled after a mandatory call event.

(h) CBBCs issued on overseas assets

CBBCs issued on overseas assets are calculated and converting foreign currencies into Hong Kong dollars, and investors have to bear the foreign exchange risk associated with the trading of such CBBCs. The price of foreign exchange is determined by market demand and supply, and there are many factors involved.

In the case of CBBCs issued on overseas assets, mandatory call events may occur outside of HKEx trading hours. The CBBCs concerned will cease trading on the Exchange in the next trading session or as soon as possible after the issuer notifies the Exchange of the occurrence of a mandatory call event. There is no automatic stop-out mechanism for AMS/3 after the occurrence of a mandatory call event. In the case of Category R CBBCs, the residual value will be determined on the pricing date in accordance with the listing documents.

Risks Involved in Investing in Derivative Warrants ("Warrants")

Trading in Warrants involves a high level of risk and is not suitable for everyone. Investors should clearly understand and consider the following risks before trading in Warrants:

(a) Issuer risk

(a) The holder of a Warrant is an unsecured creditor of the issuer of the Warrant and does not have any preferential claim on the assets of the issuer; Investors in Warrants are therefore exposed to the issuer's credit risk.

(b) Gearing risk

Although the price of Warrants is much lower than the price of the underlying asset, the price of Warrants can rise much more than that of the underlying stock. In the worst case scenario, the price of a derivative warrant can fall to zero and the investor loses all the money initially invested.

(c) Expiry date

Unlike stocks, Warrants have an expiry date and do not last for a long time. Warrants are completely worthless if they are not in-the-money at expiry.

(d) Time depreciation

All other factors being equal, the price of Warrants will diminish over time and investors should never regard them as a long-term investment vehicle.

(e) Volatility

An increase in the volatility of an underlying asset will increase the value of a Warrant, all other factors being equal; Conversely, a decrease in volatility will result in a decrease in the value of derivative warrants.

(f) Market forces

In addition to the fundamental factors determining the theoretical price of Warrants, all other market factors (including the supply and demand for the warrants themselves in the market) also affect the price of Warrants. In terms of market supply and demand, the effect of supply and demand is particularly strong when Warrants are about to be sold out in the market or when issuers are issuing additional Warrants.

Risks involved in investing in ETFs

(a) Market risk

ETFs are primarily designed to track the performance of certain indices, sectors/fields or asset groups such as stocks, bonds or commodities. ETF managers may use different strategies to achieve their objectives, but usually do not have the discretion to adopt a defensive strategy in a down market either. Investors must be prepared to suffer losses due to the volatility of the underlying index/asset.

(b) Tracking Error

This is disconnect between the performance of an ETF and the performance of the underlying index/asset, which can be caused by ETF transaction fees and other charges, changes in the mix of the underlying index/asset, and the ETF manager's replication principles. (Common replication principles include full replication/representative sample selection and composite replication, as described below.)

(c) Trading at a discount or premium

The price of an ETF may be higher or lower than its NAV, primarily due to supply and demand factors, particularly during periods of high market volatility and volatility, and may also be the case for ETFs that specialise in markets/sectors with restrictions on direct investment.

(d) Foreign exchange risk

Investors are also exposed to foreign exchange risk if the underlying assets of the structured products they are trading are not denominated in Hong Kong dollars. Fluctuations in currency exchange rates can have a negative impact on the value of the underlying assets, which in turn can affect the price of the structured products.

(e) Liquidity risk

A securities market maker is an exchange participant responsible for providing liquidity to facilitate the trading of ETFs. Although an ETF has one or more securities market makers, investors may not be able to trade if a securities market maker defaults or ceases to perform its duties.

The different replication principles for ETFs involve counterparty risk

(a) Exact replication and representative sample strategy

ETFs that adopt the full replication principle usually invest in all constituents/assets at the same weighting as the benchmark. Those that adopt a representative sample strategy invest in some, but not all, of the relevant constituent stocks/assets. Counterparty risk is generally not a significant issue for ETFs that invest directly in the underlying assets without synthetic replicas issued by third parties.

(b) Aggregate Replication Principle

ETFs that adopt the synthetic replication principle track benchmark performance primarily through swaps or other derivative instruments. Currently, there are two further types of ETFs that adopt the composite replication principle:

i. Swap-based

Total return swaps allow an ETF manager to replicate the performance of the fund's benchmark without having to purchase its underlying assets. Swap-based ETFs are subject to counterparty risk from the swap dealer. If the swap dealer defaults or fails to meet its contractual commitments, the fund may suffer losses.

ii. Derivatives-based

The ETF manager may also use other derivative instruments to replicate the economic benefits of the underlying in aggregate. Such derivatives may be issued by one or more issuers. An ETF that is structured as a derivative is subject to counterparty risk from the issuer. If the issuer defaults or fails to meet its contractual commitments, the fund may suffer losses.

Even if an ETF obtains collateral, it is dependent on the collateral provider to meet its obligations. In addition, once the right to claim collateral is exercised, the market value of the collateral can be significantly lower than the initial amount received, resulting in significant losses to the ETF. It is important that investors understand and carefully evaluate the implications of the different ETF structures and features.

Risk of Client Assets Received or Held Outside Hong Kong

Client assets received or held outside of Hong Kong by a licensee or registered person are governed by the applicable laws and regulations of the relevant overseas jurisdictions. These laws and regulations may differ from the Securities and Futures Ordinance (Cap. 571 of the Laws of Hong Kong) and the rules made under that Ordinance. As a result, the relevant Client assets may not enjoy the same protection afforded to Client assets received or held in Hong Kong.

Risk of Providing a Standing Authority to Repledge Your Securities Collateral etc.

There are risks in providing a licensee or registered person with standing authority to use your securities or securities collateral in accordance with a Securities Borrowing & Lending agreement, to repledge your securities collateral for financial accommodation or to deposit your securities collateral as security for the performance and satisfaction of its settlement obligations and liabilities.

If your securities or securities collateral are received or held in Hong Kong by a licensed or registered person, the above arrangements will only be effective if you have given your written consent to it. In addition, unless you are a professional investor, your power of attorney must specify a period of validity, which may not exceed twelve (12) months. If you are a professional investor, then this restriction does not apply.

In addition, if your licensee or registrar gives you an indication at least fourteen (14) days before the expiry of the relevant authorization that the authorization will be deemed to have been renewed and you do not object to the renewal of the authorization in this manner before the expiry of the relevant authorization, your authorization will be deemed to have been renewed without your written consent.

There is no statutory requirement for you to sign these authorizations. However, the licensee or registered person may require a standing authority in order, for example, to provide you with a margin loan or to be permitted to lend or deposit your securities or securities collateral with a third party as collateral. The licensee or registered person should explain to you for what purpose the power of attorney will be used.

If you sign a power of attorney and your securities or securities collateral are lent to or deposited with a third party, such third party will have a lien or charge on your securities or securities collateral. Although the licensee or registered person concerned is liable to you for the securities or securities collateral lent or deposited with you under your power of attorney, a default by such licensee or registered person may result in the loss of your securities or securities collateral.

Most licensees or registrants offer cash accounts that do not involve Securities Borrowing & Lending. If you do not need a margin loan, or do not want your securities or securities collateral to be lent or pledged, do not sign the above authorization and open such a cash accounts upon request.

Risks of Providing a Standing Authority to Deposit or Transfer Mail to a Third Party

If you provide the authority to a licensed or registered person to deposit or transfer mail to a third party, you should receive all transaction notes and statements relating to your account in person as soon as possible and read them carefully to ensure that any discrepancies or errors can be detected in a timely manner.

Risks of Margin Trading

The risk of loss in obtaining financing for a transaction by depositing collateral can be substantial. You may sustain losses in excess of the cash and any other assets you have deposited as collateral with the relevant licensee or registrar.

Market conditions may prevent the execution by standby orders, such as "stop-loss" or "price-limit" orders. You may be required to deposit additional margin amounts or pay interest for a short period of time. If you fail to pay the required margin amount or interest within the specified time, your collateral may be sold without your consent.

In addition, you will be liable for any resulting shortfall in your account as a result and for any interest that may be payable. You should therefore carefully consider whether such financing arrangements are suitable for you in the light of your own financial position and investment objectives.

Risks of Trading NASDAQ-AMEX Securities on The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited

Securities listed for trading under the NASDAQ-AMEX Pilot Program ("Pilot Program") are designed for investors who are familiar with investment techniques. You should consult with the relevant licensee or registrar and familiarize yourself with the Pilot Program before trading in the Pilot Program's securities. You should be aware that the securities listed and traded under the Pilot Scheme are not regulated as a class of securities with a primary or secondary listing on the Main Board or the Growth Enterprise Market of The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited.

Risks of Futures (Margin Financing) Trading

The risk of loss from trading futures contracts or options on margin financing is substantial and significant. You may sustain significant losses in excess of the cash and any other assets you have deposited as collateral with the relevant licensee or registrar. Even if you have set contingent orders, such as "stop-loss" or "price-limit" orders, you may not be able to avoid losses. Market conditions may make it impossible to execute such orders, such as "stop-loss" or "price-limit" orders. The terms and size of the credit facility for margin financing may be changed, modified or terminated at any time without prior notice or your consent. The credit facility is repayable immediately.

It is your obligation and responsibility to monitor and maintain the trading account at all times with sufficient funds to meet all margin requirements, pay interest and make other payments.

If you fail to maintain or provide the required margin deposits, interest or other payments at any time, your open positions may be closed and your collateral may be sold without prior notice or your consent. In addition, you will be liable for any shortfall in your account as a result and for any interest that may be payable. You should therefore consider carefully whether such financing arrangements are suitable for you in the light of your financial position and investment objectives. You will be required to close out and liquidate some or all of your positions before the closing time of the trading session on the Trading Day. Compliance with these requirements may result in significant losses. If you fail or refuse to close and liquidate your position by the specified time, that position will be closed and liquidated at any price or point (which may not be the best quote or point or market price or market point). You may suffer significant losses.

Risks of Internet Facilities

Trading through one electronic trading system may be different from trading through other electronic trading systems. If you trade through an electronic trading system, you are exposed to the risks associated with that system, including the risk that the hardware or software of the system may malfunction. System failure may result in your instructions not being executed as instructed or not being executed at all.

You acknowledge and assume the risk of delays in the transmission of messages over the internet due to network congestion or other causes. You will not be liable for the consequences of such delays (including, but not limited to, delays in giving instructions or orders to the trading venue, or delays in sending you execution reports due to the failure of any communication facility, or other delays that are not reasonably within the control of the licensee or registrant).

Communications over the internet may be temporarily interrupted, transmission terminated or intercepted, or there may be errors in the transmission of information due to the public context of the Internet or other reasons beyond the control of the licensee or registrant. Messages sent over the internet cannot be guaranteed to be completely secure. You should note that any messages/instructions sent or received through the licensee's or registrant's system are subject to the risk of delay, loss, conversion, alteration, misuse or virus infection and you are responsible for such risk. The licensee or the registrant will not be liable for such loss and damage.

Risk of E-Statement

Access to the internet and other electronic media may be limited or unavailable due to peak periods, market fluctuations, system upgrades or maintenance or for other reasons. Any communications over the Internet and other electronic media may be subject to interruptions, transmission blackouts and delays due to unpredictable Internet traffic or for other reasons beyond the control of the licensee or registrant. Due to technical limitations, the Internet is inherently an unreliable medium of communication. As a result, there may be delays in the transmission and receipt of information and statements may not be delivered to the specified email account. In addition, unauthorized third parties may have access to communications and personal data and you bear the full risk of any misunderstanding of communications or errors in communications.

Risks of Stock Options Trading

You acknowledge that the purchase of options involves a high degree of risk due to the volatility of the securities market from time to time.

Warning to Option Holders

Some options are not exercisable until the expiration date (for European style options), while others may be exercised at any time prior to expiration (for American style option exercises). You understand that some options are payable in cash upon exercise of the underlying stock, while others are payable in cash upon exercise.

Options are a loss-making asset and you, as an option holder, may lose the entire premium of the option. To earn a profit as an option holder, you must either exercise the option or close out a long position in the market. In some cases, there may be difficulties in trading options due to insufficient market liquidity. You also acknowledge that the licensee or registered person is not obliged to exercise valuable options without your instruction and is not obliged to notify you in advance of the expiry date of the options.

Warning to Option Sellers

As an option seller, you may be required to pay additional margin at any time. You acknowledge that unlike an option holder, who can suffer unlimited losses from the ups and downs of the underlying stock price, while the option premium is the only return to the seller.

In addition, the seller of an American call (put) option may be required to deliver the underlying stock or pay cash consideration at any time prior to expiration, which is the product of the strike price multiplied by the number of underlying shares, and you understand that these obligations may be out of all proportion to the value of the premium received for the option sold, and that the notice period may be very short.

The risk of loss on an option transaction is very high. In some cases, you may sustain losses in excess of the amount of the initial margin deposit. Setting contingent orders such as "stop-loss" or "price-limit" orders will not necessarily prevent losses. Market conditions may make it impossible to execute such orders. You may be required to deposit additional margin funds within a short period of time. If the required amount is not provided within the specified time frame, your open positions may be closed out. However, you will still be responsible for any resulting shortfall in your account. You should therefore research and understand options before trading and carefully consider whether such trading is suitable for you in the light of your financial situation and investment objectives. If you trade in options, you should familiarize yourself with the procedures for exercise and expiry, and your rights and obligations upon exercise and expiration.

You should check with the licensee or registrar for the terms and conditions of the relevant option contract being traded and the affiliated companies' obligations (such as expiry dates and time limits on the exercise of options). The Exchange or Clearing Corporation may, in certain circumstances, amend the terms of an outstanding contract (including the exercise price of the option) to reflect changes in the underlying assets of the contract.

Market conditions (such as insufficient market liquidity) and/or the imposition of certain market rules (e.g. suspension of trading in any contract or contract month due to price restrictions or "trading halt" measures) can increase the risk of loss by making it difficult or impossible to execute trades or close out/offset positions, and your exposure to loss may increase if you sell options.

The normal price relationship between the underlying interest and the option may not exist. In the absence of an underlying reference price, it is difficult to determine a "Fair Price".

You should be aware of the protections available to you for depositing money or other property in connection with your transactions, whether local or overseas, particularly in the event of the firm's bankruptcy or insolvency. The amount of money or property you can recover may be limited by law or local rules. In some jurisdictions, if there is a shortfall in the amount of money or property recovered, it may be assumed that the property belonging to you will be distributed to you on a pro rata basis as if it were cash.

You should be aware of all commissions, fees and other charges that you will have to pay before you start trading. These fees will directly affect your net profit (if any) or increase your loss.

Trading in markets in other jurisdictions, including markets formally linked to the local market, may expose you to additional risks. Regulations in the relevant markets may vary or reduce the level of protection available to investors. Before entering into such a transaction, you should ascertain all the rules governing the transaction to be entered into.

Your local regulator cannot compel the regulator or market in the jurisdiction where you have executed the transaction to enforce the rules. You should check with your licensee or registrar about the remedies available in your home jurisdiction and other relevant jurisdictions and the details of those remedies before you enter into a transaction.

Electronic trading facilities use a system of calculators to transmit orders, execute, match, register or settle transactions. However, all facilities and systems are subject to temporary interruptions or failures. Your entitlement to certain remedies in this regard may be subject to limitations imposed by the system provider, the market, the clearing house and/or the licensee or registrant in respect of their obligations. As these limitation of liability limits may vary, you should check with the licensee or registrar for details.

Trading through one electronic trading system may be different from trading through other electronic trading systems. If you confirm that you are trading through an electronic trading system, you bear the risks associated with that system, including the risk that the hardware or software may fail. A system failure may result in a licensee's or registrant's orders not being executed in accordance with instructions or not being executed at all.

In certain jurisdictions, and only under restricted circumstances, the licensee or the registered person may not be able to provide you with any information about the system. The licensee or registrant may be the counterparty to the transaction you are trading. In such circumstances, it may be difficult or even impossible to close out existing positions, assess value, determine a fair price or assess risk. As a result, these transactions may involve greater risk. OTC transactions may be less regulated or may be subject to a different regulatory regime; you should be aware of the rules and risks involved before entering into such transactions.

Options trading can be very risky. Whether buying or selling options, investors should first understand the type of option they intend to buy or sell (i.e., put or call options) and the risk of the affiliated companies. You should calculate the premium and all transaction costs, and then work out how much the option value must increase to make a profit.

The option purchaser can choose to offset or exercise the option or to let the option expire. If the option holder chooses to exercise the option, cash settlement must be made or the underlying asset must be purchased or delivered by the purchaser. If the option purchased has no value at expiration, you will lose the entire amount invested, including all premiums and transaction costs. If you intend to purchase out-of-the-money options, you should be aware that the chances of making a profit from such options are generally slim.

The risk of selling ("selling" or "granting") options is usually greater than that of buying them. Although the amount of option premium received by the seller is fixed, the seller may suffer losses in excess of this amount. If market conditions are unfavourable to the seller, the seller will be required to pay additional margin to cover the position. The seller may also be exposed to the risk of a buyer exercising the option, in which case the seller will be obligated to settle the option in cash or to purchase or deliver the interest. The risk may be mitigated if the seller "covers" its options by holding a corresponding position in the interest or futures contract or another option. If the option is not covered, the risk of loss may be unlimited.

Exchanges in some jurisdictions allow option buyers to defer payment of premiums so that the buyer's obligation to pay margin charges does not exceed the option premium. Nonetheless, the buyer is ultimately exposed to the risk of losing the option premium and transaction costs. Upon exercise or expiration of the option, the buyer is required to pay the outstanding premium.

Risks Associated with Trading on Shanghai-Hong Kong Stock Connect/Shenzhen-Hong Kong Stock Connect

(a) Not covered by the Investor Compensation Fund

Clients should note that the Investor Compensation Fund in Hong Kong does not cover any northbound or southbound trades under the Shanghai-Hong Kong Stock Connect/Shenzhen-Hong Kong Stock Connect. For Hong Kong investors participating in northbound trades, the China Investor Protection Fund also does not cover northbound trades of the Shanghai Stock Connect/Shenzhen Stock Connect as they are transacted through a local Hong Kong brokerage firm which is not a Mainland securities company. The Hong Kong Investor Compensation Fund was established to compensate investors of any nationality for monetary losses suffered as a result of a default by a licensed intermediary or authorized financial institution in respect of products traded on a Hong Kong exchange. Examples of default include insolvency, bankruptcy or liquidation, breach of trust, defalcation, fraud or misconduct

For southbound transactions, the Investor Compensation Fund does not cover southbound transactions through the Shanghai-Hong Kong Stock Connect/Shenzhen-Hong Kong Stock Connect as Mainland stockbrokers are not required to be licensed or registered by the SFC in Hong Kong and are not regulated by the SFC.

For further information on the Investor Compensation Fund, please refer to the website of the Investor Compensation Company Limited. For information on SFC-licensed or registered institutions, please refer to the "Public Register of Licensed Persons and Registered Institutions" on the SFC's website.

On the other hand, according to the Mainland's "Regulations on the Administration of Securities Investor Protection Fund", the purpose of the China Investor Protection Fund includes "repayment" to creditors in accordance with relevant state policies or "other duties approved by the State Council" in the event that a securities company is revoked, closed down, bankrupt or subject to mandatory regulatory measures such as administrative receivership or trusteeship by the SFC.

(b) Short Selling (known as securities financing in the Mainland)

Hong Kong and overseas investors investing in A shares through the Shanghai Stock Connect/Shenzhen Stock Connect are not allowed to engage in unregulated short selling activities. Hong Kong and overseas investors cannot participate in the Mainland's securities financing programme when selling A shares through the Shanghai Stock Connect/Shenzhen Stock Connect.

(c) Exhaustion of quota

When the total quota balance for Northbound and Southbound trades is less than the daily quota, the corresponding buy orders will be suspended on the next trading day (but sell orders can still be accepted) until the total quota balance is brought back up to the daily quota level. When the daily quota is exhausted, the corresponding order will also be suspended immediately (accepted buy orders will not be affected by the exhaustion of the daily quota and will continue to be accepted) and no further buy orders will be accepted on the same day, but buy orders will resume on the next trading day depending on the status of total quota balance.

(d) Differences in Trading Day and Trading Hours

Clients should note that trading day and trading hours may differ between Hong Kong and the Mainland due to different public holiday dates or other reasons such as inclement weather. As the Shanghai-Hong Kong Stock Connect/Shenzhen-Hong Kong Stock Connect will only be open when both markets are on Trading Day and banks in both markets are open on the corresponding settlement day, there may be a situation where the Mainland market is a normal trading day but Hong Kong investors cannot trade in A shares. Clients should pay attention to the opening date and time of the Shanghai-Hong Kong Stock Connect/Shenzhen-Hong Kong Stock Connect and decide whether to bear the risk of A-share price fluctuations during the period when the Shanghai-Hong Kong Stock Connect/Shenzhen-Hong Kong Stock Connect is not traded, taking into account their own risk tolerance.

(e) Front-end monitoring restrictions on selling

For Clients who do not deposit their A shares with ESFL/brokerage, if they need to sell certain A shares they hold, they must successfully transfer the A shares to their ESFL/brokerage account no later than the opening of the market on the day of the sell (T-day). If the Client misses this deadline, he/she will not be able to sell the A-share on T-day.

(f) Transfer and Trading Restrictions for Eligible Stocks

When a stock that was originally an eligible stock for the Shanghai-Hong Kong Stock Connect/Shenzhen-Hong Kong Stock Connect is moved out of the Shanghai-Hong Kong Stock Connect/Shenzhen-Hong Kong Stock Connect range for various reasons, the stock can only be sold but not bought. This may have an impact on Clients' investment portfolios or strategies. Therefore, you should pay close attention to the list of eligible stocks provided by the Shanghai Stock Exchange/Shenzhen Stock Exchange and updated from time to time.

You may only sell and not buy A-shares through the Shanghai-Hong Kong Stock Connect if (i) they cease to be constituent stocks of the relevant index; (ii) the A-shares are subject to a "Risk Warning"; and/or (iii) the corresponding H-shares of those A-shares cease to be listed for trading on SEHK. You should also be aware that trading in A shares may be subject to a range of Limit Up/Down restrictions.

You may only sell and not buy A-shares through the Shenzhen-Hong Kong Stock Connect if (i) they cease to be constituent stocks of the relevant index; (ii) the A shares are determined to have a market capitalization of less than RMB 6 million in any regular commentary; (iii) such A shares are placed on "Risk Warning"; and/or the corresponding H-shares of those A-shares cease to be listed and traded on SEHK. You should also note that trading in the A shares may be subject to a range of Limit Up/Down restrictions.

(g) Trading Fees

Investors trading northbound via the Shanghai-Hong Kong Stock Connect/Shenzhen-Hong Kong Stock Connect are required to pay transaction fees and stamp duty for trading in A shares, in addition to new portfolio fees, dividend tax and taxes on gains from stock transfers that may arise.

(h) Mainland regulations, foreign shareholding restrictions and disclosure obligations

Listed companies and transactions in A shares in relation to the Shanghai-Hong Kong Stock Connect/Shenzhen-Hong Kong Stock Connect are subject to the market regulations and disclosure obligations of A shares and any changes to the relevant laws or regulations may affect the share price. Clients should also be aware of the foreign shareholding restrictions and disclosure obligations for A shares. Clients are responsible for all relevant reporting, notification and disclosure requirements.

(i) Currency Risk

Northbound investments in A shares are traded and settled in Renminbi. Clients who invest in RMB assets in local currencies other than RMB are subject to exchange rate risk due to the conversion of local currencies into RMB. During the exchange process, there will be costs associated with the conversion of currency. Even if the price of the RMB asset remains unchanged, there will be a loss if the RMB depreciates during the conversion process.
